2011 TIGER BASEBALL

DOUG KINGSMORE STADIUM

Clemson has enjoyed tremendous success on the field thanks in large part to Doug Kingsmore Stadium and the support of Tiger fans. Clemson has finished in the top 10 in the nation in attendance each of the last nine seasons. Those dedicated fans have seen the Tigers win 81 percent of their home games since the facility opened in 1970.

Already one of the top baseball stadiums in the country, the facility is slated to see improvements for the players in the near future. A new three-story building, which will include a new clubhouse, baseball hall of fame, and a players' lounge among other amentities, has been targeted to be constructed behind the first-base grandstand within a few years.

* - ACC regular-season game; # - First Pitch Invitational; ^ - Greenville, SC (Fluor Field); CTSN - Clemson Tiger Sports Network broadcast; WCCP - 104.9 FM (Clemson, SC) broadcast; RSN - Regional Sports Network telecast; Note: Home games in bold; all times are PM and Eastern; radio assignments subject to change based on basketball game conflicts.

The Tigers made one of their deepest runs in the NCAA Tournament in 2010 when they reached the Final Four of the College World Series. After the Tigers captured the ACC Atlantic Division title by sweeping Florida State in the final weekend of the regular season, they went on the road in a hostile environment to beat Auburn twice and win the Auburn Regional title.

The following weekend, the Tigers won two games over Alabama to capture the Clemson Super Regional title and spark a wild celebration (pictured above). The Tigers then won two games in Omaha in the final year of Rosenblatt Stadium.

The 2010 season marked Clemson's 35th NCAA Tournament appearance, sixth-most in NCAA history, and 12th College World Series appearance, 11th-most in NCAA history.

There is space for 13 writers in the press box in the Doug Kingsmore Stadium press areas, plus booths for each team's radio network. Season credentials and credentials on a game-by-game basis are issued. Members of the media must request a pass at least one day prior to each game/series to ensure admittance.

Email Distribution List

Notes, stats, stories, and other information are emailed out on a series basis from the Clemson SID office. Contact Brian Hennessy (bhennes@clemson.edu) to be put on the email list.

Internet/Telephone Services

The press box features the most up-to-date phone and wireless internet services.

Leggett Availability

Overview

After advancing to the Final Four of the College World Series in 2010, many of the key players who helped Clemson reach the mecca of college baseball return for the 2011 season. The Tigers are coming off their sixth College World Series appearance in 17 seasons under Head Coach Jack Leggett.

"I'm really excited about the upcoming season," said Leggett. "We have a strong group of veterans coming back. We lost some good players from last year, but at the same time, I think we'll be able to try to send the reinforcements in there and see what they are capable of doing.

"I'm excited about our offense. I'm excited about some of our players who are going to step up in the pitching department. We have some depth, some good attitudes, and some good athletes. So I feel confident with what we have coming into the year."

Leggett, who has taken the Tigers to the NCAA Tournament in 16 of his first 17 seasons, has amassed 769 wins at Clemson, seventh-most in the nation during that span. That is more victories than the likes of Texas, Georgia Tech, Arizona State, South Carolina, and North Carolina.

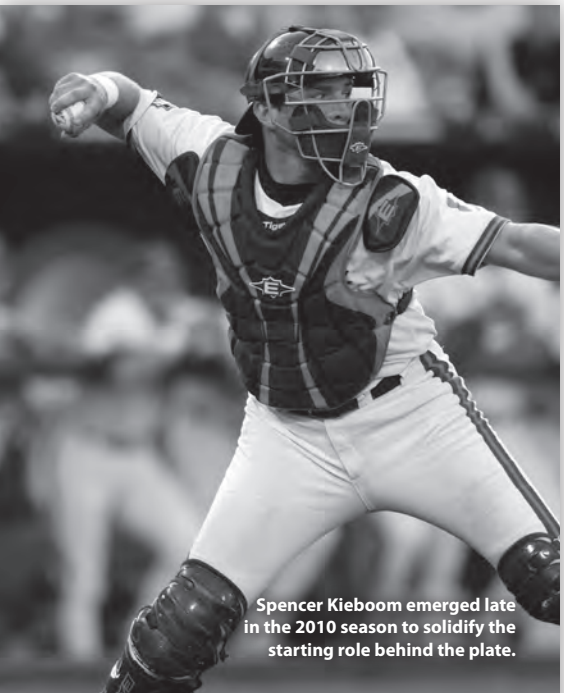

Only four of the eight position starters return from a year ago, but many of the spots vacated by starters Wilson Boyd, Mike Freeman, John Nester, and Kyle Parker will be filled by veterans with previous starting experience. Leggett will also count on a talented group of freshmen along with the 20 returning lettermen.

"I think we'll bring the freshmen along slowly," continued Leggett. "Some of them will be working their way into the lineup or onto the mound. But at the same time, a lot of the players coming back have the experience that it takes to get back to Omaha and play within this conference. They'll still get a lot of opportunities to show what they can do in the beginning."

The pitching staff, under the leadership of Assistant Head Coach Dan Pepicelli, lost its Friday starter (Casey Harman) to the Major League draft, but every other Tiger who started a game on the mound in 2010 returns in 2011.

Clemson also welcomes back a familiar face in Assistant Coach and Recruiting Coordinator Bradley LeCroy. The former Tiger utility player (1997-00) served as Clemson's volunteer assistant coach from 2003-05. He was an assistant coach at Western Carolina (2006,07) and Tennessee (2008-10) before getting the call to return to his alma mater during the offseason.

Michael Johnson returns for his third year as Clemson's volunteer assistant coach, while former Tiger righthander Tomas Cruz (2009,10) will serve as a student assistant coach in 2011. The five-man staff has one goal in mind for 2011.

Spencer Kieboom emerged late in the 2010 season to solidify the starting role behind the plate.

The Tigers will play four games at Fluor Field in Greenville, SC in 2011. Clemson has a 7-1 record at Fluor Field since its first game there in 2007.

"We all had a taste of Omaha last year, and when you get a taste of it, you want more," added Leggett, who will lead the Tigers in their 23rd straight season with a preseason top-25 ranking, as Clemson is ranked #4 in the Collegiate Baseball preseason poll. "We'd love to go back and put a bid in to see who can win the whole thing in the new stadium. But we have some work to do, and we have to continue to get better every day. We're taking it one day at a time and not getting too far ahead of ourselves."

The 2011 schedule features 32 home games, 24 games against 2010 NCAA Tournament teams, and four games at Fluor Field in Greenville, SC. Starting with a three-game series against South Carolina from March 4-6, the Tigers will play 15 games against teams that played in the 2010 NCAA Tournament over a 21-game stretch. The top-eight teams in the ACC standings will play in the ACC Tournament at Durham (NC) Bulls Athletic Park from May 25-29. It will be the seventh time the ACC Tournament is held in Durham.

Catchers

Clemson has two catchers on its 2011 roster with previous collegiate experience. Junior co-captain Phil Pohl (Cooperstown, NY) started 17 games behind the plate in 2010 and hit .212 with a homer and 19 RBIs in 66 at-bats. A reason for his high RBI total relative to his at-bats was the fact that he was 4-for-6 with a grand slam, two doubles, and 14 RBIs with the bases loaded. Pohl will be counted on for his leadership as one of the most respected players on the team.

Also in the mix to start behind the plate is sophomore Spencer Kieboom (Marietta, GA). He was the third-string catcher most of the 2010 season until he made the most of his opportunity to start in the postseason. He started all 11 games in the 2010 NCAA Tournament and had several key hits to lead Clemson to victory. Kieboom, who was 15-for-57 (.263) in 30 games (13 starts) in 2010, possesses an outstanding arm that will help the Tiger pitching staff hold opponent running games at bay.

Two freshmen will compete for innings at catcher in 2011. Marcus Curry (Nichols, SC) red-shirted in 2010 after lettering four times at Green Sea Floyds High School. Jake Fletcher (Thomasville, GA) was an all-state selection as a senior at Thomasville High School.

Infielders

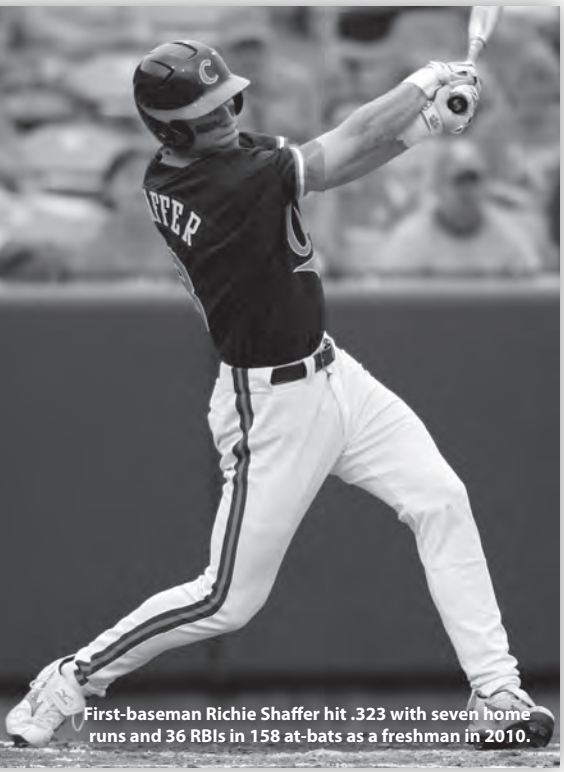

Three of the four spots in the infield will have a returning starter from a season ago. Junior co-captain John Hinson (Asheville, NC) burst onto the scene in 2010 with a .351 batting average, 17 homers, 75 RBIs, and a team-high 25 steals after starting the year as a backup. The preseason third-team All-American by Collegiate Baseball was drafted in the 13th round in 2010 after earning several postseason honors as Clemson's starting third-baseman. Hinson was 21-for-44 (.477) with five homers and 13 RBIs in the NCAA Tournament and earned Auburn Regional MVP and All-College World Series honors.

Junior co-captain Brad Miller (Windermere, FL) hit a team-high .357 with eight homers, 49 RBIs, and a .458 on-base percentage in 2010 thanks to his excellent eye at the plate as a shortstop. He also batted .402 with a .533 on-base percentage in ACC regular-season games, both second-best in the league, and had two double-digit hitting streaks in 2010. The two-time member of the USA National team is a preseason third-team All-American by Collegiate Baseball.

Junior Jason Stolz (Marietta, GA) is the leading candidate be the starter at second base after being a valuable third-baseman and shortstop in his first two years in the program. He batted .222 with a homer and 14 RBIs in 2010, but was hampered by a back injury. He possesses a strong arm and is one of the team's fastest baserunners.

Brad Miller hit a team-high .357 with a .458 on-base percentage and two double-digit hitting streaks in 2010.

First-baseman Richie Shaffer hit .323 with seven home runs and 36 RBIs in 158 at-bats as a freshman in 2010.

Sophomore Richie Shaffer (Charlotte, NC) started 36 games at first base in 2010. He batted .323 with seven homers and 36 RBIs and did not commit an error in 327 chances in the field. Clemson had a 35-13 record in games he played in and was 10-12 in games he did not play in, as he missed 17 games due to a hamstring injury. His power, which was exhibited when he hit three combined homers in the two wins over Alabama in the Clemson Super Regional, will be counted on in the middle of the lineup in 2011.

Red-shirt freshman Kevin Caughman (Martinez, GA) will provide depth in the infield. He made three plate appearances in 2010 before suffering a season-ending injury.

Three freshmen will be in the mix to compete for innings in the infield in 2011. Mike Dunster (Greenwich, CT) played in the Connecticut High School All-Star game in 2010.

Jon McGibbon (Lindenhurst, NY), a 29th-round draft pick by the Seattle Mariners, won the Omaha Challenge competition among fielders in the fall and has the power to make an impact at first base as a freshman in 2011. McGibbon will also add depth to the outfield.

Freshman Steve Wilkerson (Roswell, GA) is one of the most highly-touted newcomers on the team and was drafted in the 15th round by the Boston Red Sox. He is also Clemson's first switch-hitter since Patrick Boyd (1998-01).

Outfielders

Clemson returns four players with experience in the outfield, led by senior Jeff Schaus (Naples, FL). The three-year starter and two-time All-ACC player is a career .319 hitter with 237 hits, 41 doubles, 31 homers, and 168 RBIs in 195 games (193 starts). He hit .320 with 15 homers and 87 RBIs (tied for second-most in school history, fourth-most in the nation, and most in the ACC) as the starting leftfielder in 2010 and was drafted in the 27th round by the Cleveland Indians. Schaus is also a preseason second-team All-American by NCBWA.

The other three veteran outfielders will compete for the starting centerfield and rightfield spots. Senior co-captain Chris Epps (Stone Mountain, GA) is slated to be the starter in right field, but he also has starting experience in center. He is a career .244 hitter in 152 games (103 starts), but he has a .402 on-base percentage thanks to his excellent eye at the plate. His career mark of one walk every 3.97 at-bats is third-best in school history. He also won the 2010 Bob Bradley Award as Clemson's MVP of the three-game series against South Carolina.

Fifth-year senior Addison Johnson (Pfafftown, NC) will compete for the starting spot in centerfield. He is one of the team's best defensive outfielders and has outstanding speed. He is a career .259 hitter in 165 games (111 starts), but he is 13-for-31 (.419) with a .550 on-base percentage in 15 career NCAA Tournament games. Johnson will also add depth as a lefthanded pitcher in 2011.

Junior Will Lamb (Seaford, VA) is the tallest Tiger at 6'6" and is one of the team's fastest baserunners. He batted .289 with four homers, 36 RBIs, and 14 steals in 14 attempts in 2010 and is a strong candidate to patrol centerfield for the Tigers in 2011. The lefthander, who is the #84 prospect in the nation for the 2011 draft by Baseball America, is also in the mix to be a weekend starter on the mound thanks to his hard fastball. Lamb was 4-4 with two saves in 52.0 innings pitched over 18 appearances (10 starts) in 2010. He will add depth at first base in 2011 as well.

Senior Jay Cox (Belton, SC) sat out a season ago after transferring from Florence-Darlington Technical College. He lettered at the same school (Belton-Honea Path High School) that sent former All-American Matthew LeCroy (1995-97) to Clemson.

Two freshmen from Florida will compete for innings in the outfield in 2011. Dominic Attanasio (Windermere, FL) is a speedy outfielder who is from the same school (Olympia High School) that sent Miller to Clemson.

Freshman Joe Costigan (Naples, FL) is another candidate to provide innings in the outfield in 2011. The Barron Collier High School alum attended the same school as former Tiger All-American Andy D'Alessio (2004-07) and Schaus.

Pitchers

The pitching staff has many roles up for grabs in 2011. Other than the loss of Harman, who started a school-record-tying 19 games in 2010, every other Tiger who made a start in 2010 returns in 2011.

The versatile Will Lamb will play in the field and pitch on the mound for the Tigers in 2011.

* - spent one season as a red-shirt player; Note: Stats are from the 2010 season.

Junior righthander Scott Weismann (Boxborough, MA) will lead the weekend rotation in 2011. He was in the weekend rotation during the entire 2010 season when he was 9-2 with a 4.90 ERA in 97.1 innings pitched. He became the first Tiger to record nine wins since 2006, while Clemson was 15-3 in his 18 starts. Weismann, who challenges hitters with his fastball, has performed at his best in the NCAA Tournament, as he is 4-0 with a school-record 1.71 ERA in 26.1 innings pitched in his career in NCAA Tourney play.

Sophomore righthander Dominic Leone (Norwich, CT) emerged late in the 2010 season to become a dependable starting pitcher. He had a 3-2 record and 4.78 ERA in 22 appearances (10 starts). He did not allow more than four earned runs or three walks in any of his 22 appearances and gave up just two long balls (both solo homers).

Sophomore righty Scott Firth (Buffalo Grove, IL) was one of Clemson's top weekday starters as a freshman in 2010. In 32.2 innings pitched over 16 appearances (four starts), he was 2-1 with a team-best 3.58 ERA. He used his downward movement to record 44 groundball outs compared to just 23 flyball outs in 2010.

Junior righthander David Haselden (Spartanburg, SC) has experience as a starter, long reliever, and closer. In 58.2 innings pitched over 29 appearances (three starts) in his career, he has allowed only 14 walks with 45 strikeouts, good for a 3.21 strikeout-to-walk ratio. He hopes to have the same start to the 2011 season as he did in 2010, when he pitched 9.0 innings before he allowed his first hit and first run of the year.

Graduate co-captain and righthander Justin Sarratt (Gaffney, SC) also has the versatility to be a starter and reliever. He missed most of the 2010 season due to an elbow injury, but should be at full strength in 2011. Sarratt has exhibited excellent control throughout his career, as he has walked only 27 batters in 112.1 innings pitched over 62 appearances (12 starts). His 2.16 walks-per-nine-innings-pitched mark is sixth-best in school history and he has not allowed a steal in his career. If he receives a letter in 2011, he will become the first Tiger in history to letter five times.

Senior righthander Alex Frederick (Lagrangeville, NY) was seldomly used in 2009, but he made himself known late in the 2010 season. He had a 7-2 record, a team-high four saves, and a 3.75 ERA in a team-high 33 appearances (one start) in 2010. He used his outstanding breaking ball to record saves in both of Clemson's wins in the College World Series. He also earned wins in four consecutive outings and six of seven appearances late in the season. Frederick will compete for the starting closer spot in 2011.

Sophomore righty Kevin Brady (Gaithersburg, MD) has the ability to be a weekend starter and closer in 2011 thanks to one of the team's best fastballs. He had a 1-0 record and a save in 22 appearances (two starts) in 2010. He also allowed only eight walks with 45 strikeouts in 37.1 innings pitched, good for a 5.63 strikeout-to-walk ratio.

Sophomore righthander Jonathan Meyer (San Diego, CA) was one of the team's best relievers early in 2010 and amassed a 2-1 record and two saves in 20 relief appearances. He will compete for innings out of the bullpen in 2011.

Also competing for innings out of the bullpen will be sophomore righty Mike Kent (Springfield, VA). He had a 1-1 record in six appearances (two starts) and held opponents to 2-for-16 (.125) with two outs in 2010.

Sophomore Joseph Moorefield (Woodruff, SC) is the only everyday pitcher who throws lefthanded on the 2011 staff. He made just six relief appearances in 2010, but he has the repertoire to be a factor for the Tigers in 2011.

Four newcomers will compete for innings in 2011. Freshman righthander Kevin Pohle (Saint Louis, MO) impressed coaches during the fall after being rated as the #2 righthander prospect in Missouri by Perfect Game.

Scott Weismann had a 9-2 record, including a 3-0 record in three NCAA Tournament starts, in 2010.

Freshman righty Jon Surber (Lisle, IL) was a two-time all-state selection at Lisle Senior High School. He also possesses the versatility to compete for innings in the infield in 2011.

Freshman righthanders Matt Campbell (Alpharetta, GA), who lettered multiple times at Northview High School, and Clay Bates (Rock Hill, SC) will also provide depth in the bullpen in 2011. Bates won the Omaha Challenge among pitchers in the fall after a standout career at Northwestern High School.

Adkins, Rusty

Former Clemson great and infielder Rusty Adkins had his jersey retired and was inducted into the Clemson Baseball Ring of Honor during ceremonies prior to the Florida State game on April 24, 1998. Adkins is the only three-time All-American in Tiger baseball history, as he wore #3 from 1965-67.

Adkins hit safely in 41 consecutive games over two seasons, still tied for the sixth-longest streak in NCAA history and longest in Tiger history. He had to go to his last at-bat to get a hit just three times. In 23 of the games, he had at least two hits. He was 74-for-169 (.438) during the streak that lasted from April 10, 1965 to May 17, 1966.

The versatile player of the wooden-bat era hit .444 as a sophomore, a record that lasted until 2002, when National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene hit .470. Adkins hit .379 in his career, an ACC record for the wooden-bat era. He earned his degree from Clemson in industrial management in 1967 and later earned a master's degree from the Clemson-Furman MBA program in 1972. He is also a member of the state of South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame.

In 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team, the second-oldest Clemson athlete in any sport selected. Citing his age is a compliment to Adkins, as it shows how his accomplishments have stood the test of time.

All-Star Game MVP

The most impressive performance in a professional league all-star game in any sport by a former Tiger athlete was achieved on July 8, 1958. Pitching in his then home stadium in Baltimore for the American League, former Tiger Billy O'Dell faced nine National League batters and retired all nine over the last three innings, helping the American League to a 4-3 win.

The list of players O'Dell retired included five future Hall of Fame players, Willie Mays, Stan Musial, Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, and Bill Mazeroski. He struck out two and allowed just one ball hit out of the infield. While the official history of Major League Baseball does not recognize an All-Star Game MVP until 1962, O'Dell was presented an MVP trophy that was sponsored by a local newspaper.

O'Dell pitched 13 years in the Majors between 1954-67. His best year was in 1962 when he had a 19-14 record, 195 strikeouts, and pitched 20 complete games for the San Francisco Giants. Only Warren Spahn had more complete games among National League hurlers. O'Dell was also fifth in the National League in strikeouts. Three of the four pitchers ahead of him were Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale, and Bob Gibson.

O'Dell started game-one of the 1962 World Series against the Yankees and Whitey Ford. He lost that game, but he did record a save in game-four.

Attendance

Clemson has been outstanding at Doug Kingsmore Stadium in terms of its record. Since it opened in 1970, the Tigers are 328-81 in ACC regular-season games, an 80.2 winning percentage, and 995-241 overall, an 80.5 winning percentage. That is 1,236 games played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium entering 2011.

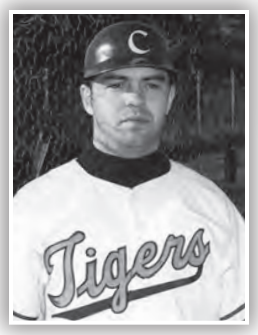

In Jack Leggett's head-coaching career, the Tigers have accumulated a 492-123 (.800) overall record and 168-52 (.764) record against the ACC in the friendly confines the last 17 seasons.

That success can be attributed in part to the tremendous fan support from Tiger faithful. Clemson has finished each of the last 17 years in the top 20 in the nation in attendance. That includes top-10 finishes each of the last nine seasons. Clemson was #7 in the nation in 2010 with an average of 4,694 fans for its 35 home dates.

The Tiger single-game attendance record was set on Sunday, March 7, 2004 against #5 South Carolina. The attendance on that afternoon was 6,480.

To order season tickets, which includes a reserved seat with the season ticketholder's name on the seat and the right to reserve the seat if the Tigers host an NCAA Regional, call 1-800-CLEMSON.

Bagley, Sack

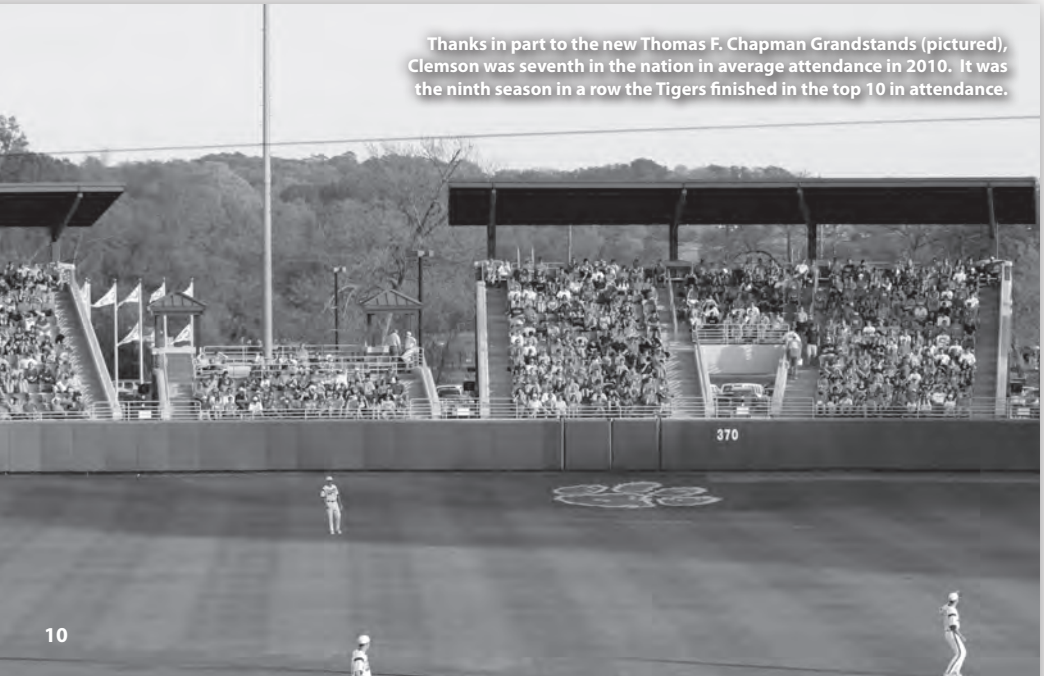

Sack Bagley has been a part of Clemson's baseball program since the early 1960s. He was an undergraduate student when he tried out for the team and then was a student manager under legendary Head Coach Bill Wilhelm.

When Wilhelm needed a freshman coach in 1966, he turned to Bagley, who had learned much about the game sitting in the dugout performing his managerial duties. In those days, Wilhelm was the only baseball coach and served as intramural program director. He had to wear many hats, but it also allowed Bagley to perform many duties, duties that would be done by a full-time assistant coach today.

Bagley coached the Clemson freshmen in 1966. Many of the players on his freshman team went on to play for the Tigers' 1967 ACC Championship team that posted a 29-9 record and #7 final national ranking. The highlight of that 1966 freshman season was two victories over Georgia Tech, including a 7-0 win to close the season.

Bagley, who was the head football coach at nearby Pendleton High School, now works every Tiger home game serving as the official scorer, a duty that was held by longtime friend and colleague Bob Bradley, and travels to most road games.

Thanks in part to the new Thomas F. Chapman Grandstands (pictured), Clemson was seventh in the nation in average attendance in 2010. It was the ninth season in a row the Tigers finished in the top 10 in attendance.

Danny Cannon's rendition of "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" has become a tradition and fan-favorite. He also made his first appearance in Omaha in 2010.

Bradley Award

For the 11th year in a row, the Tiger MVP of the Clemson-South Carolina series will receive the Bob Bradley Award. South Carolina's top player is presented the Tom Price Award. The presentation is made after the final regular-season game between the two rivals.

Both Bradley and Price had a tremendous positive influence on the baseball programs at Clemson and South Carolina as the school's sports information directors. Bradley passed away on October 30, 2000. He served as the Tigers' baseball SID for 45 years and still served as Clemson's official scorer for most of the 2000 season. He also was inducted into Clemson's prestigious Ring of Honor in 2005. Price passed away on February 1, 2008 at the age of 81 after 45 years of service to the Gamecock program.

The 2010 Bob Bradley Award winner was outfielder Chris Epps. He was 7-for-14 (.500) with two homers, one double, six RBIs, six runs, two walks, and one steal in three starts.

Bush, George

Not the 43rd United States President, but the 41st President played baseball against Clemson. During the 1947 NCAA Tournament, the Tigers traveled to Yale for an Elite Eight game with the Bulldogs and first-baseman George Bush. Bush went 1-for-4 that day in helping Yale to a 7-3 victory, allowing the Bulldogs to advance to the College World Series (then only four teams). It ended Clemson's Southern Conference Championship season at 24-5. Years later when he came to Clemson to speak, Sports Information Director Bob Bradley presented Bush with a laminated and framed copy of the scorebook from that game.

Cannon, Danny

A popular Clemson baseball tradition that began in the late 1990s was the singing of "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" during the "Seventh-Inning Stretch." The singer of this popular baseball tune is Danny Cannon, Clemson's version of Harry Caray.

Cannon is a fan-favorite who works in many capacities at Clemson. By day, he is an assistant manager for day-to-day operations in the Tigers' athletic facilities, a job he has held for 18 years. He lends a helping hand in whatever needs to be done.

After the 56-year-old, die-hard Tiger fan preps the stadium for gameday, he boisterously cheers on Clemson from his perch above the first-base dugout during the game. However, his highlight of each game is when he grabs the mic and gives it his all for his unique rendition of "Take Me Out to the Ballgame."

Cannon, who is retired from the Army after driving tanks among other duties for 20 years, then resumes his cleanup role after each game. He stays long after each Tiger fan has gone home to ensure that Doug Kingsmore Stadium is ready for Clemson's next home game.

Chapman, Tommy

Atlanta resident Thomas F. Chapman, retired chairman and CEO of Equifax, Inc., gave Clemson University $2 million to form a leadership program in the College of Business & Behavioral Science and to expand and enhance Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

One-million dollars of the gift will support the Thomas F. Chapman Leadership Scholars Program and $1 million was used to build the Thomas F. Chapman Grandstands, adding 1,000 seats to Clemson's baseball stadium.

As a student-athlete, Chapman received an IPTAY scholarship that funded his Clemson education. "I believe in paying back what is given to you," he said. "My athletic scholarship provided me an outstanding college experience and a future career in professional baseball upon graduation, as well as a quality education."

Chapman graduated from Clemson with an economics degree in 1965. While at Clemson, he was a two-time All-ACC pitcher, including a first-team selection in 1965 when he led the ACC in strikeouts (100). In his three years in a Tiger uniform, he had a combined 12-7 record and 3.12 ERA.

Upon graduation, he became the first Tiger to be selected in the Major League draft when he was taken by the Philadelphia Phillies in 1965. He played professional baseball until April of 1968, when he was called to active military service.

Additional seating at Doug Kingsmore Stadium was the top need for students and season ticketholders. The Thomas F. Chapman Grandstands, completed prior to the 2010 season, has added 500 seats for students. An additional 500 grandstand seats are available for season ticketholders.

Coaching Consistency

One element that a Clemson baseball player can depend on when he comes to Tigertown is consistency in coaching and winning. Clemson has had just two head coaches since the 1958 season. Bill Wilhelm guided the Tigers for 36 years (1958-93) and Jack Leggett, who had been the head coach at Western Carolina and an assistant under Wilhelm for the two years prior to his retirement, has been at Clemson as head coach for the past 17 years. That is 53 consecutive non-losing seasons for the Tiger program.

A look to the NCAA recordbook shows that Wilhelm is tied for 16th in victories in NCAA Division I history with 1,161. Gene Stephenson, who is still active as the head coach at Wichita State, has 1,724 wins in his 33 years, all with the Shockers.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members of the league, which started in the 1953-54 academic year. Prior to that year, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921-53. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before then and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Clemson has won the ACC regular-season title 21 times in 57 previous years, more than any other school. The Tigers have also won nine tourney titles, more than any other school, and been to the finals 21 times, also a league-high. Overall, Clemson has been the declared ACC Champion 14 times, again more than any other school.

Competition in the ACC took a step up in 2005, when Miami (FL) and Virginia Tech were added to the conference. Then in 2006, Boston College joined the league as the 12th member. ACC members still play 30 conference games, meaning each team will not play one other team during the regular season. The Tigers will not face Miami in 2011.

Every Inning

One of the most difficult team accomplishments in baseball is to score at least one run in every inning. It has happened just five times in Tiger history. Only once was Clemson the visiting team so that it scored in nine different innings.

The first time it happened was at Clemson on May 16, 1950, when the Tigers beat South Carolina 18-9 in a nine-inning game. Clemson actually scored five runs in the second, one in the fourth, and exactly two in the other six innings. The Tigers accomplished the feat in a 26-0 win over South Carolina in 1960 at Clemson and in a 15-4 victory over Buffalo in 1969 at Clemson. Both of those games were seven-inning contests.

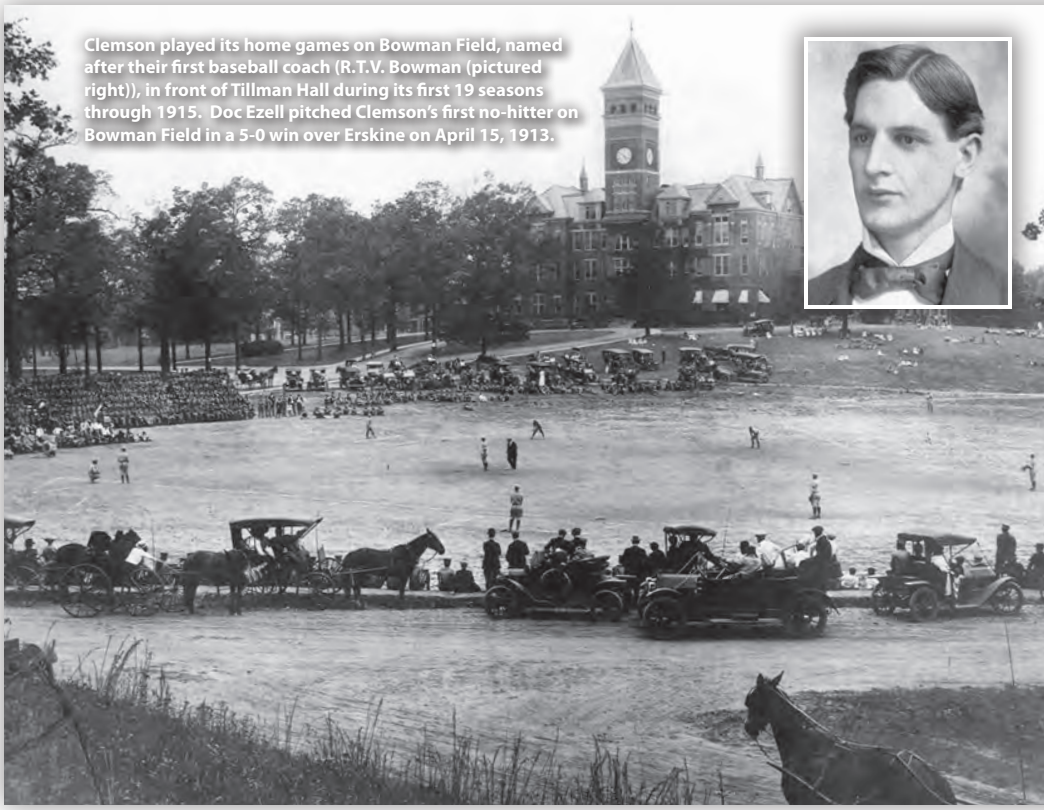

The only time Clemson accomplished the feat over nine innings in a road game took place on March 19, 1974 in a 24-2 win at Florida. That was an odd linescore, as Clemson scored seven runs in the fifth inning, 10 runs in the seventh inning, and exactly one run in the other seven innings.

Clemson last accomplished the feat at Duke on April 9, 1988 in a 10-3 win in seven innings.

Note: Home games in bold.

Clemson played its home games on Bowman Field, named after their first baseball coach (R.T.V. Bowman (pictured right)), in front of Tillman Hall during its first 19 seasons through 1915. Doc Ezell pitched Clemson's first no-hitter on Bowman Field in a 5-0 win over Erskine on April 15, 1913.

Ezell, Doc

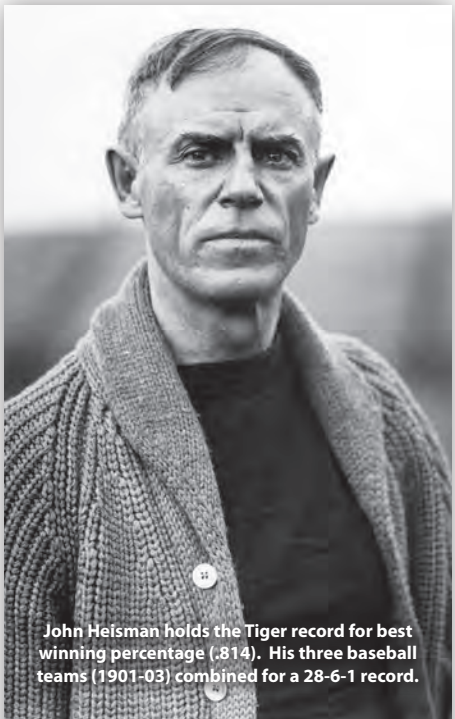

Doc Ezell threw the first no-hitter in Clemson history when he no-hit Erskine on April 15, 1913. The game was played on Bowman Field, the field in front of Tillman Hall. He faced just 28 batters and struck out 12. Not only did he throw a no-hitter, he also hit a home run in the seventh inning. He is the only Tiger to throw a no-hitter and hit a home run in the same game.

One of the odd facts in Tiger history involves Erskine. Clemson's first no-hitter was thrown against the Flying Fleet and the first no-hitter against Clemson was thrown by Erskine.

Guyon, Joe

Joe Guyon was a Native American who attended Carlisle Indian School (1912,13) and was a teammate of the great Jim Thorpe. Guyon also played two seasons on the gridiron under Head Coach John Heisman at Georgia Tech and played on the 1917 National Championship team.

Guyon had the distinction of playing both professional football and baseball, and he was also named to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame and the NFL Hall of Fame. An injury in baseball ended his playing career. From 1928-31, Guyon was Clemson's head baseball coach. He had a 42-36-3 (.537) record in four seasons in Tigertown.

John Heisman holds the Tiger record for best winning percentage (.814). His three baseball teams (1901-03) combined for a 28-6-1 record.

Heisman, John

The man whose name is most recognized with college football holds a unique distinction at Clemson. Many people know that he was the head football coach for four seasons at Clemson, posting a 19-3-1 (.848) record, still the best winning percentage in Tiger history.

But he also served as the head baseball coach at Clemson between the 1901-03 seasons. Heisman, who was Clemson's second baseball coach, had a record of 28-6-1 (.814). It still holds today as the best winning percentage in Tiger history. Thus, he has the winning-percentage record in both baseball and football at Clemson.

In late 1903, Georgia Tech, who had suffered a 73-0 loss to Heisman's gridders that same season, offered the young coach $2,250 plus 30 percent of the net gate to coach football. Unfortunately for Clemson, he accepted.

Howard, Frank

Frank Howard is synonymous with Clemson football. But most people do not know that Howard was Clemson's baseball coach in 1943 and did quite well. He led the Tigers to a 12-3 record. The 80.0 winning percentage is one of the highest by any coach in Clemson baseball history.

The native of Barlow Bend, AL won 165 football games in 30 seasons at Clemson and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989. He served Clemson for 65 years, including as the track coach from 1931-39 and athletic director from 1940-71, all the while being the school's best-known ambassador.

Howard died at the age of 86 on January 26, 1996. His ability to "bring the house down" when he spoke with his homespun oratory will forever be remembered by players, coaches, sportswriters, and fans alike.

IPTAY

IPTAY stands for "I Pay Ten a Year," the original name with a meaning deriving from the minimum contribution of its donors when the organization began in 1934. It is the Clemson athletic department's scholarship fundraising organization. Nearly 15,000 donors contributed close to $19 million during the 2010 IPTAY year, providing scholarship support and helping to fund capital projects such as the Thomas F. Chapman Grandstands addition to Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

In the 1990s, IPTAY added two clubs to create an influx of youth into the organization. The Tiger Cub Club and Collegiate Club allow young and college-age Tigers to be a part of IPTAY. These two clubs are the largest of their kind in the country. Call (864) 656-2115 to reach the IPTAY office, located at the northwest corner of Memorial Stadium.

Legend of Clemson Baseball

For 36 seasons (1958-93), Bill Wilhelm led the Tiger program to 1,161 wins, making him the fifth-winningest coach in Division I history at the time of his retirement. But perhaps the most amazing stat of all is that Wilhelm never had a losing season.

Wilhelm's coaching career spanned nine United States Presidents, from Dwight Eisenhower to Bill Clinton. He coached 100 players who signed professional contracts, 20 All-Americans, and 88 First-Team All-ACC players.

Wilhelm coached Clemson teams to six College World Series and 11 ACC titles. No other ACC baseball coach has more than five ACC titles.

Wilhelm passed away at the age of 81 on December 24, 2010 in Seneca, SC after a lengthy illness. Up until his passing, he still came to most of the home games. Believe us, there was nothing like watching a baseball game with Wilhelm. It was like going to Fenway Park or Wrigley Field.

For more on the career of the legendary coach, see page 140.

Leggett's Poem

Bill Wilhelm passed away at the age of 81 on December 24, 2010. He lived his life in a unique way that made him one-of-a-kind. He touched so many players and coaches in his 36 years (1958-93) as Clemson's head coach, including current Head Coach Jack Leggett, who was Wilhelm's top assistant coach in 1992 and 1993. During Wilhelm's memorial service in Jervey Gym on January 8, 2011, Leggett paid tribute to Wilhelm with the following poem that he wrote.

Be ready up there, open your hearts and open the gate,
Because you are about to welcome our #38.

You may not always like what he is going to say,
But in the end, he'll make it a better day.

He'll be wearing an orange uniform with all his pride,
Before it's all over, through tough times he'll be on your side.

You won't always understand, sometimes he'll be gruff,
But the plan will be to teach you lessons and make you tough.

He'll like a good game, but will want to win,
If you earn his respect, he'll always be there through thick and thin.

His friends, his network, his influence will spread wide,
If you look closely, everything he touches will be filled with pride.

He'll love to play golf, not always hitting the ball straight,
He'll play cards, laugh with you, maybe show up at home late.

He'll tell you he's a three-handicap with a smirk, a smile, and his eyes will flutter,
What are they, you'll ask, he'll say "My driver, my irons, and my putter."

He'll have the best memory of anyone you will see,
He won't forget what you did, your name, or your story.

He'll tell you about his team through a half-empty glass,
*But before the nine innings are over, he'll be kicking your ***.*

He might change a call to give you a fair shake,
Something that's not his, he will never take.

So you'll see that he's a man of integrity and principle,
He's going to embellish stories and it will never be dull.

He will talk about Michael and Randall, his heart full of pride,
His love for them he won't be able to hide.

Then he'll tell you about Sarah Jane, his lovely wife,
She's the piece of the puzzle that completed his life.

So buckle your seatbelt up there and be ready for the storm,
Because you're about to receive a man who's influence and touch will be greater than the norm.

Treat him with respect and your tender touch,
Because this is a man we are going to miss so much.

When he arrives, he won't want any special welcome or fuss,
But please tell him none of us will forget what he's taught us.

We'll miss you Coach Wilhelm.

If he has influenced your life positively,

If you have thought about something he has said to you on a daily basis,

If you respect all he has done for you, Clemson baseball, and college baseball,

If you have taken some lessons from your experience with Coach and passed it on to others to make this a better place,

If you miss him,

If you recognize the value of all he has given us,

I would like to have you stand and give him a 38-second standing ovation and let him hear us and how much we appreciate what he's left behind.

Raleigh, NC

This ACC city has been the site of two of Clemson's most bizarre wins and one of the best individual performances in history. On April 7, 1979, Clemson scored 18 runs in the top of the ninth inning and defeated N.C. State 41-9. The 41 runs remain the most runs scored by one team in a game in ACC history.

Tiger Hall of Famer Neil Simons led the attack with three homers and a school-record-tying 10 RBIs. He hit a grand slam in the 18-run ninth inning. Robert Bonnette and Tony Masone each had five hits to pace the 27-hit attack. Every Tiger in the batting order had at least one hit, one run, and one RBI. In fact, eight had at least three runs and seven had at least three RBIs.

Sixteen years and one week later (April 14, 1995), Clemson scored 11 runs in the top of the ninth inning and went on to a 17-15 win at N.C. State in extra innings. It is the greatest deficit overcome to gain victory in Tiger history. Clemson trailed 15-4 entering the top of the ninth inning, then scored the 11 runs to tie the score, even after the leadoff batter was retired. Clemson scored two runs in the 10th inning to gain victory. Future Major Leaguers Shane Monahan (three-run homer) and Matthew LeCroy (four RBIs) provided the big hits in the ninth inning. Another future Major Leaguer, Scott Winchester, earned the victory.

Then 10 years and nine days later (April 23, 2005), freshman second-baseman Taylor Harbin had one of the best games by a Tiger in history. Against the Wolfpack in Raleigh, he went 5-for-5 with three home runs, eight RBIs, and five runs to lead the Tigers to a 16-9 victory. The three home runs came on consecutive pitches over three at-bats.

Clemson, who is 38-7 in NCAA Tournament games at Doug Kingsmore Stadium since 1994, has played its way to Omaha by winning a regional or super regional at home six times under Head Coach Jack Leggett.

Harbin became the fifth Tiger to hit three homers in an ACC game. Three of Clemson's six occurrences have taken place at N.C. State's Doak Field.

Harbin added a triple and single, as he only lacked a double for the cycle. Ironically, he led the ACC in doubles in 2005. The three homers tied a school record held by many, while his 16 total bases broke the Tiger record of 15 that was established by Dick Hendley in 1951.

Regional Hosts

The 2010 season marked the fourth time in history that Clemson hosted an NCAA Super Regional at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Clemson has a 41-9 record in NCAA Tournament games at home, including 36 wins in the last 41 games. One of the losses during that span came to Southern California, who defeated the Tigers 8-5 on May 23, 1998. That Trojan team went on to win the national title.

Clemson has hosted an NCAA Regional 12 times in history. The Tigers first hosted an NCAA Regional in 1980. The Tigers swept through three games that year, including a 17-12 win over rival South Carolina that clinched Clemson's trip to Omaha.

The Tigers have celebrated a trip to Omaha by winning a regional or super regional on their home field seven times, including each of the last six times they have advanced to the College World Series.

Clemson has played host to a regional or super regional in 11 of the 17 years Jack Leggett has been head coach. The Tigers have a 38-7 NCAA Tournament record at home under Leggett. The 1994 and 1998 seasons are the only years Clemson failed to advance from a regional or super regional played at home under Leggett.

Clemson played an NCAA Tournament "play-in" game at the end of the 1954 season, but the official NCAA recordbook does not consider that to be an NCAA Tournament game. That year, Clemson lost to Virginia Tech 11-10 in a game at Clemson, then traveled to Blacksburg two days later and lost 7-1.

Two-Sport Tigers Under Jack Leggett

Most Tiger fans are aware of Kyle Parker's prowess in two sports at Clemson. On the diamond, Parker was a First-Team All-ACC player in 2008 when he should have been a senior in high school. He also reached 25 career home runs in 103 games, quicker than any other Tiger in history. As a red-shirt freshman on the gridiron in 2009, he quarterbacked Clemson to nine wins and was a second-team freshman All-American thanks to passing for 2,526 yards and 20 touchdowns.

He then accomplished his most remarkable accomplishment during the 2010 baseball season when he slugged 20 home runs, becoming the first Division I athlete in history to total 20 passing touchdowns and 20 homers in the same academic year.

Head Coach Jack Leggett paid tribute to the late Bill Wilhelm with a poem (above) at his memorial service in January. Wilhelm, who had 1,161 wins in 36 seasons (1958-93) at Clemson, passed away on December 24, 2010.

But Parker is not the only Tiger baseball player who has experienced success in two sports during Head Coach Jack Leggett's tenure (1994-10). Two have been placekickers, ironically the same position that Leggett played during his two-sport days at Maine. Matt Padgett (1996-98) was a career .318 hitter with 28 homers and 137 RBIs in 167 games, and he was also Clemson's starting placekicker in 1996. Jeff Sauve (1992-95) was a standout reliever who had an 18-7 record and 4.09 ERA in 204.2 innings pitched in his career. He was also the starting placekicker in 1995 when he was 15-20 on field goals.

Dexter McCleon (1993,94), Andre Humphrey (1994), Joe Don Reames (1999), and C.J. Gaddis (2004) and are four more Tigers who donned two different uniforms. McCleon played 90 games over two baseball seasons and helped quarterback the Tigers to a nine-win campaign in 1993 before eventually playing in the NFL as a cornerback. In his 10 years (148 games) in the NFL, McCleon totaled 31 interceptions.

Uniform Uniqueness

Under legendary Head Coach Bill Wilhelm and up to today, Clemson has had a uniform uniqueness. The first aspect of the uniform stressed by Wilhelm was the word itself (uniform), which means "the same." Wilhelm wanted all of his players to look consistent and not have different pant lengths, different colored undershirts, etc. So he, with the help of some ideas from players and coaches, came up with "uniform" aspects that have stuck.

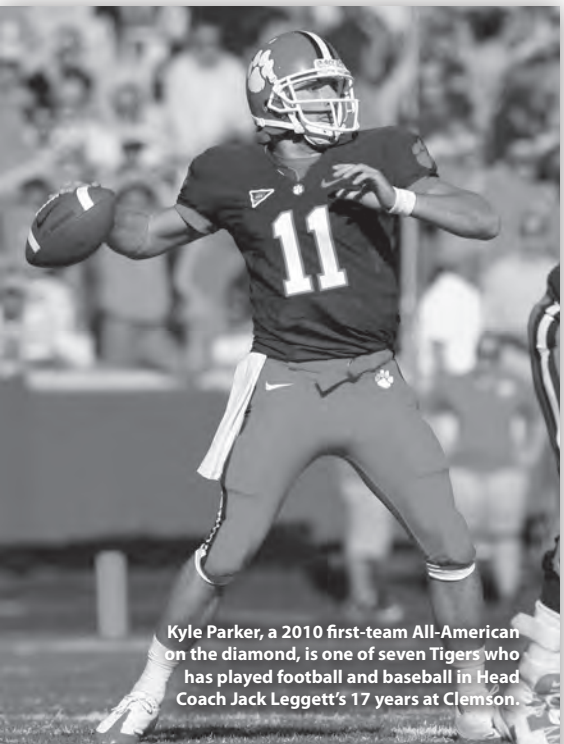

Wilhelm came up with the idea of wearing white shoes from Joe Lutz, who was the coach at Southern Illinois in the 1960s. Lutz was also the first to have female bat girls. Wilhelm liked those ideas, and the two have been with the Tiger program ever since.

But perhaps the most synonymous part of Tiger baseball is the long pants. Clemson was one of the first schools to wear non-wool uniforms. The Tigers wore nylon uniforms starting in 1968. This and having the long pants was done from the advice of a former Major Leaguer's (Rick Rickardt's) father, who was a doctor. Wilhelm read an article by Dr. Rickardt explaining how there was so much pressure being put around the upper portion of the lower leg due to wrapping rubber bands to keep players' socks from falling and having the elastic around the bottom of the pant legs.

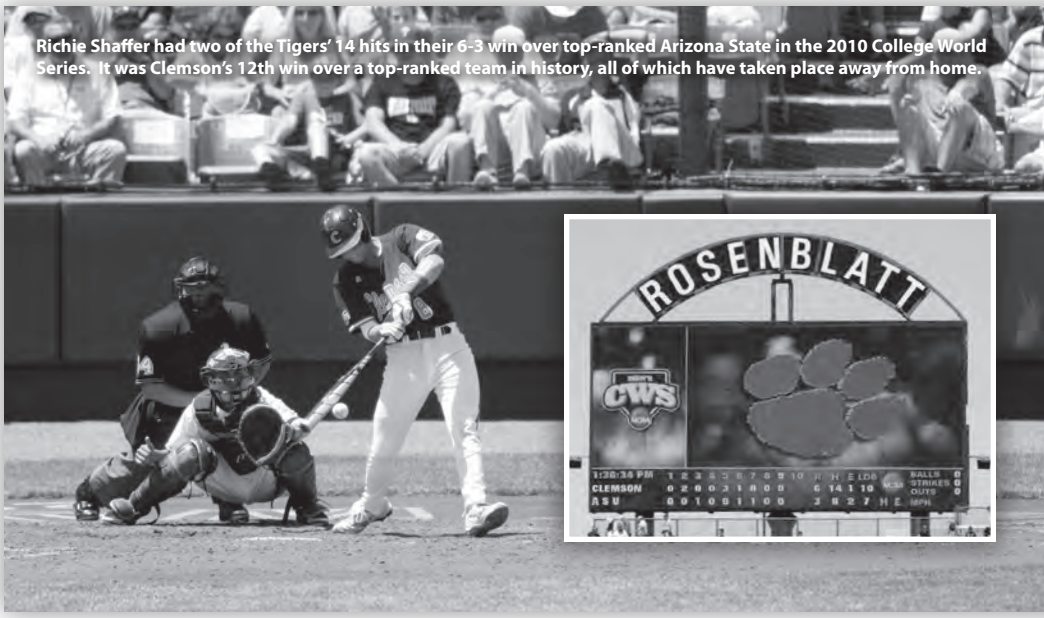

A few years later, Bill Foley, a Tiger catcher in the mid-1970s, had just returned from a tournament in Japan. He had received a pair of long pants from Rawlings and wore them to practice one day before the 1976 season. Foley liked the nylon stretched pants and Wilhelm followed suit. Wilhelm liked how the pants did not have a zipper and how they were custom-made. He also liked that players could wear low socks and how that saved time and money from using the customary sanitary socks. Wilhelm decided to experiment with the long pants in 1978.

The jerseys were unique as well because they did not tuck in. They were designed by Wilhelm to be worn outside and over the pants. They had a two-inch elastic band at the bottom. Wilhelm wanted to eliminate belts and did not want players to have to undo belts and tuck them in, especially after head-first slides.

Since then, Clemson has had a tradition of wearing white pants for all games, home and away, much to the chagrin of equipment managers.

Kyle Parker, a 2010 first-team All-American on the diamond, is one of seven Tigers who has played football and baseball in Head Coach Jack Leggett's 17 years at Clemson.

Richie Shaffer had two of the Tigers' 14 hits in their 6-3 win over top-ranked Arizona State in the 2010 College World Series. It was Clemson's 12th win over a top-ranked team in history, all of which have taken place away from home.

Winningest Division I Programs

Clemson has the most wins among current ACC teams and is eighth in NCAA Division I history with 2,523 according to the 2011 NCAA recordbook. Clemson enters its 114th season with a 2523-1396-30 record (64.3 winning percentage). Florida State is ninth with 2,522 wins, North Carolina is 11th with 2,479 wins, and Miami (FL) is 23rd with 2,281 victories.

You can stump some people with the answer to the question, "Who is the all-time leader?" The answer is the team Clemson beat in one of the longest NCAA Tourney games in history, a 3-2 win over Fordham that took 19 innings to complete in the 1988 NCAA Northeast Regional at New Britain, CT. The Rams, who have been playing college baseball for 150 years, have an all-time record of 4043-2053-50.

Wins Over Top-Ranked Teams

Clemson has defeated the #1 team in the nation in baseball 12 times, more than any other sport on the Tiger landscape. That list of 12 wins includes four over Miami (FL), more than any other opponent. Amazingly, none of the 12 wins took place at Clemson.

Clemson gained its 12th win over a top-ranked team in 2010 when the Tigers defeated an Arizona State team that was ranked #1 according to Collegiate Baseball and Sports Weekly. It was actually the second win over a top-ranked team by the Tigers in 2010.

Clemson's first wins in history over the #1 team in the nation in any sport took place at Miami in an NCAA Tournament game in 1977 on consecutive days. The Tigers downed the top-ranked Hurricanes on May 21 and May 22 of 1977 to advance to the College World Series.

The Tigers also beat a top-ranked Hurricane team in 1986 in consecutive regular-season games at Greenville (SC) Municipal Stadium. The Tigers downed the Hurricanes 7-4 and 9-5, wins many believed would get Clemson into the then 40-team field. But the 42-21 Tigers were denied.

The baseball program has 12 of the Clemson sports program's 25 all-time wins over top-ranked teams. The men's soccer team is second (5).

One of the more unusual circumstances surrounding the nation's #1 team took place in 1994. In what is believed to be the only time two top-ranked teams faced each other, Clemson beat Georgia Tech twice in three games at Atlanta, GA. Clemson entered that series ranked #1 by Collegiate Baseball and Sports Weekly, while Georgia Tech entered the series #1 by Baseball America. That was Jack Leggett's first year as Tiger head coach.

World Series Champions & All-Stars

Clemson has had four different former players win Major League World Series Championship rings. The first to do it was Flint Rhem, who was a member of the Saint Louis Cardinals, champions of 1926 and 1931. Rhem was a pitcher who had a 20-7 record during the 1926 season, the most wins by a National League pitcher that year.

Tim Teufel was a member of the New York Mets in the 1986 season, the year they defeated the Boston Red Sox to win the World Series Championship. He hit .247 in 93 games for the Mets that year. Teufel played 1,073 games in his Major League career.

Mark Davidson gave the Tigers a World Series Champion two years in a row when he played on the Minnesota team that won it all in 1987. Davidson played 102 games and hit .267 that season, his second year in the Majors.

Jimmy Key has had the most impressive World Series career of all the former Tigers. He played on the 1992 Blue Jay and the 1996 Yankee teams that won the World Series. He holds the distinction of being the only pitcher to gain the clinching victory in two different World Series in the 1990s. He was 2-0 in the 1992 World Series, winning game-four and game-six, the latter in relief. He was 3-1 with a 2.50 ERA during his World Series career.

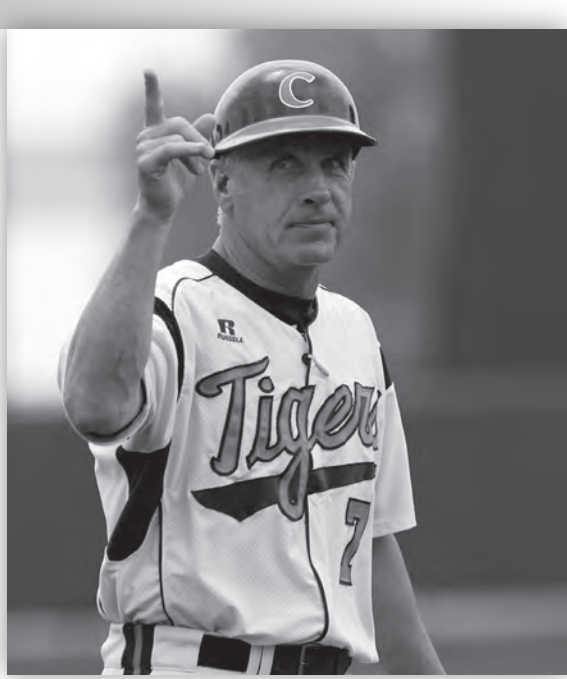

Clemson has had two former players participate in the Major League All-Star game. Billy O'Dell, a star pitcher for Clemson in the 1950s, is the only former Tiger to earn MVP honors in the All-Star game. He earned the victory and pitched 3.0 scoreless innings in the 1958 game at Baltimore, MD. He was a member of the Orioles at the time, so that was quite a special afternoon. O'Dell also played in the 1959 All-Star game.

Key is the other former Tiger to play in an All-Star game. He was chosen four times, including 1985, his rookie year. He was also chosen in 1991, 1993, and 1994. He is third to Brian Dawkins and Michael Dean Perry in Clemson athletic history in terms of All-Star game selections at the professional level. Dawkins has been selected to the Pro Bowl eight times, while Perry played in six Pro Bowls.

7 | Jack Leggett

Head Coach
18th Season at Clemson
32nd Season Overall
Maine '76

Jack Leggett is no stranger to success. In 17 seasons, he has led Clemson to 769 victories (45.2 per season), 16 NCAA Tournament appearances, and six College World Series berths. Clemson is the seventh-winningest program in the nation during his time as head coach.

The enthusiastic mentor, who will turn 57 on March 5, has not built up that win total against easy competition. Of his 769 wins, 208 (27 percent) have come against teams ranked in the top 25 of at least one of the three major polls. He also has 108 wins over top-10 teams and 63 in NCAA Tournament competition.

The South Burlington, VT native has been with the program since 1992. He served as recruiting coordinator and assistant head coach under Bill Wilhelm (1992,93). He was a major contributor to two teams that were ranked in the final top 20 and reached the NCAA Regionals. The Tigers also won the ACC Tourney title in 1993.

The Leggett File

Full Name: Jackson Scott Leggett
Born: March 5, 1954 in Bangor, ME
Education: Bachelor's degree in physical education and minor in history at Maine (1976)...master's degree in teacher education at Vermont (1980).
Playing Experience: Four-year letterman (baseball) at Maine (1973-76)...three-year letterman (football) at Maine (1974-76).
Family: Son, Tanner (27), and daughter, Colby (25)...wife, Karen... Karen has three daughters, Kyla (29), Kristen (28), and Kacie (26), and a son, Kenny (22).

The word "championship" is also in the lexicon of terms when summarizing Leggett's 17 years as head coach in Tigertown. In 1994, Clemson won the ACC regular-season title and went on to win the tournament title as well. In 1995, the Tigers repeated as ACC regular-season champions and won the NCAA East Regional title. The 1996 season brought Clemson another NCAA Regional title and a second consecutive berth to the College World Series. In 1999, Clemson won four games in two days to capture the Fayetteville (AR) Regional.

In 2006, the Tigers captured the Atlantic Division title with a 24-6 record and then won the ACC Tournament Championship. The Tigers also won regional titles in 2000, 2001, 2002, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2009, and 2010. Leggett guided Clemson to the College World Series in 2000, 2002, 2006, and 2010 as well.

Seven of the 17 years have seen the Tigers finish in the top 10 of all three major polls, and there has been at least one top-25 final ranking in 14 of the 17 seasons under Leggett.

For his accomplishments, he was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year in his first two seasons (1994,95). He is one of a few coaches in ACC history, regardless of sport, to be named ACC Coach-of-the-Year in each of his first two seasons. He also earned the same honor in 2006 when Clemson won the ACC title.

His demeanor is one of aggressiveness and passion for the game. One can see Leggett sprinting to the third-base coaching box between innings and charging into the pregame huddle to get his players fired up. He expects the same intensity and has gotten that out of his players.

His Tigers have shown excellence in all areas of the game in his 17 seasons. His first year (1994) as head coach was truly remarkable. With just three starters returning in the field, Clemson was unranked in the preseason top 20, but it quickly reached the top 20 of every poll with a two-game sweep of #9 Tennessee. Those were the first two of 19 wins over top-25 teams.

The 1994 Tigers (57-18) won a record 13 straight ACC games to open the season and ended the year with a 20-4 league ledger. After two wins over Miami (FL) in April of 1994, Clemson ascended to the #1 ranking in the nation according to Collegiate Baseball. It was just the second #1 ranking in school history.

Leggett's Tigers won the 1994 ACC regular-season title, then they captured the ACC Tournament title by winning four games against top-20 teams. It was just the fifth time in school history that the Tigers won the regular-season and ACC Tourney titles in one year. As a result, Clemson was rewarded as a regional host for the first time in 13 years.

Clemson was eliminated in the NCAA Regional, but it still concluded 1994 as the nation's winningest team. The summer following that season, Leggett was chosen to the University of Maine Hall of Fame.

In 1995, his Tigers had a 54-14 record, due in part to an offense that was in the top 10 in the nation in scoring (8.4 runs per game). The team also had six players who would go on to play in the Major Leagues. In 1996, the season ended with the Tiger pitching staff owning the best ERA (3.03) in the nation. With a record of 51-17, Clemson was fourth in the nation in wins.

The 1996 team also produced eight Major League draft picks, including seven in the first 17 rounds. Included in those selections were pitchers Kris Benson, the #1 overall pick, and Billy Koch, the #4 overall pick. It was only the second time in the history of the draft, which dates to 1965, that one school produced two of the first five picks.

In 1998, Clemson reached #3 in the nation and finished as high as #19. In 1999, Clemson was 6-6 against top-10 teams, even though just one of the 12 games was played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

In 2000, Clemson climbed to the #1 ranking by Collegiate Baseball after opening the season 23-3. The Tigers traveled back to Omaha for the first time in four seasons. Clemson went 1-2 in the College World Series after sweeping its way through the regional and super regional rounds. The Tigers ended the year with a 51-18 record and finished second in the ACC. Clemson claimed 14 wins over top-25 teams, including 11 wins against top-10 teams.

The 2001 season saw Clemson triumph over adversity. The Tigers suffered a five-game losing streak along with the unexpected loss of seniors Patrick Boyd and Mike Proto to injury. But Clemson finished second in the ACC and was a step away from Omaha before being eliminated by eventual National Champion Miami (FL).

In 2002, Leggett received region coach-of-the-year honors by ABCA, as the Tigers were 54-17 and finished tied for third in the nation in Omaha. That team also featured eight draft picks, including unanimous National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene. Greene set the national career record for doubles (95) and finished second in hits (403).

In 2003, Clemson continued to win close games, as the Tigers were 15-5 in games decided by two runs or less. Michael Johnson went from undrafted out of high school to a second-round pick, as he finished his career with 58 homers, third-most in Tiger history. All four starting infielders also earned First or Second-Team All-ACC honors.

The 2004 campaign was one of adversity overcome, as Clemson started 9-10 but went 18-4 in its next 22 games. The team played in the Athens (GA) Regional and overcame a seven-run deficit to defeat host Georgia and to stay alive. But the Bulldogs rallied in the title game to claim the crown. He also coached nine Tigers who were selected in the 2004 draft.

The 2005 Tigers played one of their toughest schedules in history, which included 42 of their 66 games against teams that played in the NCAA Tournament. Clemson still managed to come within one win of a trip to the College World Series, falling in three games at Baylor in the Waco Super Regional. Clemson was 19-9 against top-25 ranked teams and won 21 ACC regular-season games, finishing in second place in the ACC standings.

In 2006, Clemson had the best ACC record (24-6) and won the ACC Tournament title. The Tigers later advanced to the College World Series and finished ranked #5 in all three polls with a 53-16 record, including a 26-9 mark against top-25 ranked teams. Clemson had a 3.26 ERA, the sixth-best figure in the nation, one of many reasons Leggett was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year. Tyler Colvin and Andy D'Alessio were both first-team All-Americans, while Josh Cribb earned third-team honors. Colvin (#13 overall pick) was one of 10 Tigers selected in the 2006 draft as well.

Clemson continued its postseason success in 2007 when it advanced to the Starkville (MS) Super Regional after winning the Myrtle Beach (SC) Regional with a 3-0 record. The squad had a 41-23 record and finished in the top 15 of all three major polls. D'Alessio tied the school record with 59 career homers. He was one of a school-record 11 draft picks from the 2007 team, five of which were taken in the first three rounds. Lefthander Daniel Moskos was the #4 overall pick of the draft.

In 2009, Leggett directed the Tigers to another super regional after the Tigers won the Clemson Regional in dramatic fashion. The Tigers trailed 5-1 in the seventh inning of the championship game against Oklahoma State before they rallied for a 6-5 win thanks to Kyle Parker's two-out, two-run single in the eighth inning. Clemson did not lose more than two games in a row all year and finished #5 in the nation in ERA. The Tigers also had nine draft picks.

The 2010 squad overcame a midseason slump to advance to the College World Series for the sixth time under Leggett. Led by Parker, a first-team All-American, Clemson swept Florida State at home in the final weekend to capture the ACC Atlantic Division title. In the Auburn Regional, Clemson defeated Auburn twice in three games to advance to the Clemson Super Regional, where the Tigers topped Alabama twice in three games. In Omaha, Clemson won two games and reached the Final Four under Leggett, who was named ABCA Atlantic Region Coach-of-the-Year.

Leggett has 1,146 career wins and is the nation's seventh-winningest active Division I head coach. He reached the 1,000-win mark in Clemson's 5-0 win at Maryland on March 25, 2007 to become just the 29th coach in Division I history to reach 1,000 career wins. At the age of 53, he also became the second-youngest coach to reach that mark.

Leggett has a 84-64 record against SEC teams as the Tiger head coach, including a 50-21 record at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. He has a .500 record or better against all eight SEC teams that he has faced as Clemson's head coach.

Leggett enters the 2011 season with a career record of 1146-646-1, seven conference championships, and 21 NCAA Tournament appearances on his resumé. So far, 97 of the players Leggett has brought to Tigertown have been drafted and/or signed a professional baseball contract.

But perhaps his most notable stat is a streak involving Omaha. Since he took over in 1994, every Tiger who has been in the program and on the postseason roster for four consecutive years has made at least one trip to the College World Series. Only three other schools in the nation have current streaks as long as the Tigers' streak.

Prior to his move to Clemson, Leggett served as a head coach for 14 years (five at Vermont, nine at Western Carolina). He already had 377 career wins, 302 at Western Carolina and 75 at Vermont, before he came to Clemson.

Leggett led Western Carolina to five NCAA Tournaments (1985-89), five SoCon titles, and a top-30 ranking during his tenure as head coach. His 1988 team set the school record for wins, posting a 38-24 record, while the 1989 squad won its fifth-consecutive Southern Conference title. The Catamounts averaged 33 wins a season during his time in Cullowhee, NC, and his teams played in the conference title game in eight of the nine seasons.

The 1991 Catamounts posted a 36-26 record. One of the 36 wins came in a 9-7 victory over Clemson on March 31, one of just 10 losses the #4 Tigers had that year. Leggett was named ABCA Atlantic Region Coach-of-the-Year and Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1987. In 1989, he was appointed to the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee and served on the committee through the 1995 season.

In his tenure at Western Carolina, Leggett produced 35 First-Team All-SoCon players, six conference players-of-the-year, and had 16 players sign pro contracts. Of the Catamounts who played under him for four seasons, 100 percent graduated and more than 50 percent compiled a 3.0-or-better GPA. He was also inducted into the Western Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame in 2001.

Before going to Western Carolina for the 1983 season, Leggett spent five seasons at Vermont, where he turned the program into a consistent winner. He coached the Vermont club team in 1977, then he organized and coached the school's first intercollegiate team in 1978. At age 23, Leggett was the youngest coach in the country. He had a winning season in his first year and had a 75-61 overall record at Vermont.

Leggett graduated with honors from Maine in 1976, where he was an all-star performer in both football and baseball. He captained the 1976 Maine team that advanced to the College World Series, and he was a two-time All-Yankee Conference honoree in football as a defensive back and placekicker. He still holds the Maine record for the longest field goal, a 52-yarder.

Leggett has two children, son Tanner (27) and daughter Colby (25). Tanner lettered twice (2005,06) on the Clemson baseball team and graduated with a degree in marketing in 2006, while Colby is a graduate of Ohio State. Jack and Karen were married on August 6, 2005. Karen has four children, three daughters, Kyla (29), Kristen (28), and Kacie (26), and a son, Kenny (22).

Jack Leggett Comments

Coaching Influences

"Obviously, I admire Bill Wilhelm. He taught me so much. I will never forget him for giving me this opportunity to coach at a great program.

"I had some great coaches at Maine. Jack Butterfield and John Winkin were tremendous coaches there. Walter Abbott was my football coach at Maine, and he taught me a lot about mental toughness. Jack Bicknell was also a football coach who influenced me.

"Paul Jordan was my high school football coach. He taught me what it takes to be a winner, and he taught me about the benefits of self-sacrifice, how to be organized, and how to prepare for a game. Vermont's former athletic director (Rick Farnham) is also a coach who I drew a lot from."

Doug Kingsmore Stadium

"Doug Kingsmore Stadium is one of the top baseball facilities in the country. I am certainly prejudiced, but I think we have the finest facility when one takes into account the players, the fans, the media, and the support personnel.

"We have some unique features in our ballpark, with the terrace and the close proximity of the fans. But the greatest feature is the fan support. We have finished in the top 20 in the nation in average attendance each of the last 17 years. Our fans make it an exciting atmosphere. We have a season-ticket base of 3,500 fans, so there is strong support for the program."

Goals for the Program

"We strive to go to Omaha every year. We put 'Omaha' on the back of our caps, because I want our players to know every day what we are striving for.

"Our daily goals are to play at a national championship level. We strive to exhibit the discipline necessary in everything we do, both on and off the field, to win the national title. We talk about it...we don't hide that."

Philosophies of Baseball

"I like to play a very aggressive game. You have to take the action to the opposition and force it into mistakes. I like to hit-and-run, bunt, and be aggressive on the bases. I am not a coach who likes to sit back for the big inning.

"Consistency on defense is very important. It all begins on the mound. You can tell in our recruiting that it's an area we stress, because that's what carries you in the postseason."

Playing Experiences

"I enjoyed my college baseball experience at Maine. I was fortunate to play in the College World Series in 1976. It was a memorable time. I can tell you who we played, what the score was, players on the other teams, what I did in each at-bat, the player introductions, what hotel we stayed in, and the plane we took to get there.

"Being there as a player and enjoying the experience, it motivates me to make it happen for our players."

Selling Points of the Clemson Program

"First of all, we have a great tradition. If a young man wants to get involved in a program that strives to go to Omaha and has a goal of winning the national title, this is the place to be. That has been the case here for many years. We have been to Omaha six of the last 16 years and 12 times overall. It is a program that has not had a losing season since 1957 and has been to the NCAA Tournament 23 of the last 24 years.

"In every good program, there is a strong tradition. We are fortunate that Bill Wilhelm set that tradition for us. He coached here 36 years and never had a losing season. I don't see many coaches duplicating that feat in college baseball.

"I was a history minor in college at Maine, so I know how important that aspect is to a program. He brought it great stability. I appreciate what he did for me and what he did for this program.

"We saw the impact of that tradition in the fall of 2009 when we had a reunion of former Clemson baseball players. It was one of the most rewarding weekends of my professional career. We had former players from many different decades return to Clemson for an alumni game. We had former Major League players and walk-ons who all have a common bond for this program. It is one of the strengths of this program and this University.

"Second, we have the facilities and administrative backing to compete for the national title. That is something I would be looking for as a player. Doug Kingsmore Stadium is one of the nation's top facilities. We finished a multi-million-dollar renovation last decade and have made additional upgrades, including the new Thomas F. Chapman Grandstand in left field, that makes it the nation's best college stadium. It has been accomplished in a first-class manner in every aspect.

"Third, we have a tradition of playing host to regionals at Clemson, and that means we have fan support. You don't host regionals without drawing sellout crowds. The people in this community really embrace this program.

"Fourth, Vickery Hall, our student-athlete enrichment center, is among the best in the country. The programs at Vickery Hall show that Clemson cares about its student-athletes in all phases of his or her life. Any student-athlete at Clemson knows he or she has the chance to be successful in the classroom and graduate from Clemson."

24 | Dan Pepicelli

Assistant Head Coach
2nd Season at Clemson
16th Season Overall
SUNY Cortland '90

Dan Pepicelli is in his second year with the Tiger program as the pitching coach and first as the assistant head coach. Pepicelli (pronounced peh-pih-SEH-lee) spent nine seasons (2001-09) as the head coach at Saint John Fisher College in Rochester, NY.

In his first year at Clemson in 2010, Pepicelli molded the young pitching staff into a consistent group that was a big reason the Tigers reached the College World Series. He became Clemson's first pitching coach in history to lead a staff to Omaha in his first year in the program.

In 2010, Pepicelli coached Casey Harman, who had an 8-4 record and 3.86 ERA in 121.0 innings pitched over 19 starts. He had a 2.73 ERA and 27 strikeouts against four walks in 29.2 innings pitched in the 2010 NCAA Tournament. Pepicelli also developed Alex Frederick, who was seldomly used in 2009, to become Clemson's top reliever in the 2010 NCAA Tournament. Frederick had a save in both of the Tigers' wins in Omaha.

At Saint John Fisher, Pepicelli, who also served as pitching coach during his tenure with the Cardinal program, led it to a 200-136-1 (.595) record. In the program's first 13 seasons, it had just three winning seasons. But in Pepicelli's nine seasons with the Cardinals, he directed them to seven winning seasons and one .500 campaign.

In each of his last seven seasons with the Cardinals, he directed them to the postseason, including their first Division III Championship game berth in 2007. The Cardinals also won ECAC Upstate Championship titles in 2004, 2005, 2007, and 2009. He was named the Empire 8 Athletic Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 2001 and 2007 as well.

In 2009, he coached the Empire 8 Athletic Conference Player-of-the-Year and Rookie-of-the-Year. Leo Fusilli was named player-of-the-year after hitting .455, while Teagen Barresi was named rookie-of-the-year after batting .384 with six homers and 39 RBIs.

Pepicelli, who also served as an assistant athletic director at Saint John Fisher, received national attention for his team's act of sportsmanship in 2008. In the ninth inning against visiting SUNY Oswego in the ECAC Championship game, a line-drive foul ball struck a Laker coach in the temple. Despite the fact that the Cardinals were trailing 9-5, Pepicelli and the team elected to concede the game, effectively ending any chance at back-to-back NCAA Tournament berths. Saint John Fisher was honored by the Committee on Sportsmanship & Ethical Conduct with the NCAA's All-Divisions Sportsmanship Award for its courageous decision.

Prior to his tenure at Saint John Fisher, he was the head coach at Hartwick in 1999 and 2000 after serving as an assistant coach at Hartwick from 1996-98.

The 1990 graduate of SUNY Cortland, who earned a degree in economics/management science, was an all-region and all-conference selection during his playing days. In 1986 and 1987, he played at Mohawk Valley (NY) Community College, where he was an all-region selection.

Pepicelli transferred to SUNY Cortland, where he played in 1989. Pepicelli then played at SUNY College at Oneonta in 1990, where he was an all-conference pick.

Pepicelli is a Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist and is a member of the National Strength & Conditioning Association.

11 | Bradley LeCroy

Assistant Coach & Recruiting Coordinator
4th Season at Clemson
11th Season Overall
Clemson '01

Bradley LeCroy is in his fourth year as an assistant coach with the Tiger program. It marks his second stint, as he served as a volunteer assistant coach at Clemson from 2003-05. LeCroy replaced Tom Riginos, who accepted the head-coaching job at Winthrop in August, 2010. LeCroy (pronounced luh-CROY) also serves as recruiting coordinator along with duties as hitters and outfielders coach.

LeCroy spent the past three seasons (2008-10) as Tennessee's infielders coach and recruiting coordinator under Head Coach Todd Raleigh. Prior to his stint in Knoxville, LeCroy served under Raleigh at Western Carolina in 2006 and 2007. Prior to his three seasons as the volunteer assistant coach at Clemson, LeCroy was an assistant coach at nearby Anderson (SC) during the 2001 and 2002 seasons. In his 10 years as a coach, LeCroy has coached 37 players who went on to be drafted and 40 players who have signed professional baseball contracts.

During his tenure at Tennessee, LeCroy put together a pair of signing classes that ranked among the best in the nation. In 2008, his signing class was rated #28 in the country by Collegiate Baseball, then his 2009 signing class was ranked #14 in the nation by Baseball America.

Tennessee posted 67 home runs in 56 games in 2008, at the time the fifth-best mark in school history. A year later, he was a big reason the Volunteers slugged 87 long balls in 55 games, good for the second-highest total in Tenneseee history. LeCroy also coached one of Tennessee's best offensive players in history in Cody Hawn, who hit for the team Triple Crown in 2009 by registering a .364 batting average, 22 home runs, and 81 RBIs.

LeCroy led Western Carolina's offense to heights not seen in recent history. In 2007, the Catamounts were in the top 11 in the nation in runs per game, homers per game, slugging percentage, doubles per game, and batting average. Western Carolina had a 7-2 combined record against the ACC, Big Ten, and SEC in 2007 and had a school-record five players selected in the Major League draft. He also recruited, signed, and coached 2007 Southern Conference Player-of-the-Year Kenny Smith, who hit 20 homers with a .759 slugging percentage.

During the 2005 season, the last of his three years as the volunteer assistant at Clemson, LeCroy contributed to the Tigers' third-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and a trip to the Waco (TX) Super Regional. He was a big reason Taylor Harbin had a stellar .974 fielding percentage along with 28 doubles, 10 homers, and 63 RBIs in earning second-team All-America honors as a freshman.

In 2004, the Tigers hit 73 homers and 149 doubles. He coached Brad McCann to an All-America season, as the third-baseman hit .379 with 16 homers and 65 RBIs. The 2003 season was his first coaching at Clemson. The Tigers had a .326 batting average in ACC regular-season games, the best mark in the ACC by 19 points. LeCroy coached four all-conference players in 2003, all of which comprised the Tigers' starting infield. Included in that list were underclassmen Brad McCann (3B) and Russell Triplett (SS). Seniors Michael Johnson (1B) and David Slevin (2B) also earned All-ACC honors as infielders in 2003.

LeCroy coached in the Valley League in the summer of 2003 as an assistant coach for the New Market Rebels in Virginia. The Rebels were the Valley League runnerup after compiling a 31-18 record. The 31 victories were a franchise record, while he coached eight all-stars on the Rebels' squad. Included among those all-stars was Most Valuable Pitcher Phil Bartleski. LeCroy also worked closely with Kevin White, who was the league home run and RBI champion.

LeCroy was an assistant coach at Anderson in 2001 and 2002. In 2001, he coached David Mattox, who was drafted in the 11th round by the New York Mets and was named Minor League pitcher-of-the-year in the Mets' organization in 2002. In 2002, the Trojans led the Division II ranks with 41 triples. LeCroy coached three all-conference players during his time at Anderson.

During both summers in 2001 and 2002, he was the head coach of the Williamston (SC) American Legion team. Both teams played in the state legion playoffs.

LeCroy earned four letters at Clemson from 1997-00. He was a valuable utility player who hit .266 in 173 career games and 395 at-bats. He was the everyday starting shortstop on the 1999 team that came one inning from advancing to the College World Series. He was the starting shortstop alongside Khalil Greene, who was the starting third-baseman on that 1999 squad. LeCroy was also a member of Clemson's 2000 College World Series team and a member of four NCAA Tournament teams as a Tiger.

LeCroy, 33, earned his bachelor's degree in education from Clemson in May of 2001. He was a three-sport star at nearby Walhalla (SC) High School, earning all-state honors in baseball, basketball, and football.

LeCroy is married to the former Meredith Chandler. She was a four-time letterwinner in tennis at Clemson from 1996-99. The couple has a son, Crew Chandler (born December 16, 2010). LeCroy was born February 1, 1978 in Anderson, SC.

Volunteer Assistant Coach
3rd Season at Clemson
3rd Season Overall
Clemson '08

Michael Johnson is in his third season on the Tiger coaching staff in 2011 and serves as the volunteer assistant coach, working primarily with infielders and hitters. In his seven years associated with the Tiger program, Clemson has been to the NCAA Tournament all seven years, including three College World Series trips and six super regional appearances. He is also Clemson's first-base coach and wears the #31 jersey, the same number he wore during his playing days as an All-American in Tigertown.

In his first season as a coach at Clemson in 2009, he worked with first-baseman Ben Paulsen, who hit .367 with 13 homers and 61 RBIs. He was also instrumental in the Tigers' .304 batting average in ACC regular-season games and the team winning the Clemson Regional.

In 2010, Clemson slugged 93 home runs and batted .306 with a .403 on-base percentage. The team exhibited the same patience and power at the plate that Johnson showed as a player, as Clemson's 375 walks were third-most in the nation. The Tigers were also fifth in the nation in runs (600) and tied for 15th in homers. First-baseman Richie Shaffer batted .323 as a freshman and hit three combined homers in the Tigers' two wins in the Clemson Super Regional that propelled them to Omaha.

Johnson received four letters as a standout first-baseman at Clemson (2000-03). His 58 home runs (third), .636 slugging percentage (fifth), and 213 RBIs (sixth) are all among the top career figures in Tiger history. Johnson was also a career .344 hitter with 275 hits, 52 doubles, a .465 on-base percentage, and 25 steals in 235 games as a part of four NCAA Tournament teams and two College World Series squads (2000,02).

The two-time Tiger captain was a two-time recipient of the Bob Bradley Award as Clemson's MVP of the season series against South Carolina thanks in part to his 10 home runs in 16 career games against the rival Gamecocks. He also owned a .500 batting average with four home runs and 11 RBIs in 10 career ACC Tournament contests and totaled 2,131 putouts in his career as one of the best defensive first-basemen in school history.

Johnson red-shirted in 1999 and played 44 games as a red-shirt freshman in 2000. As a sophomore in 2001, he hit .321 with 18 homers and 54 RBIs. During the second half of the season, he hit a long ball in five consecutive games, tying a school record. He was also named Clemson Regional MVP that year.

As a junior in 2002, he became a part of one of the top trios in college baseball history. Johnson, National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene, and Jeff Baker all hit at least 25 home runs to lead the Tigers to a top-four finish in Omaha, where he was named to the All-College World Series team. Johnson, a second-team All-American by ABCA, hit .384 with 25 homers and 81 RBIs in 2002.

Despite being drafted in the second round by the San Diego Padres in the summer of 2002, he elected to return for his senior season in 2003. That year, he hit .338 with 12 homers, 51 RBIs, and a .498 on-base percentage thanks to 63 walks. He was a First-Team All-ACC selection for the second year in a row and received the Mitchell Award as Clemson's MVP.

Johnson, a powerful lefthanded hitter, later signed with the Padres in the summer of 2003 and played at every minor league level from 2003-07. He also had a brief stint in the Houston Astros' farm system in 2007. In his minor league career, Johnson totaled 90 doubles, 11 triples, 69 homers, and 264 RBIs in 391 games.

Johnson's best minor league campaign came during the 2005 season, when he batted .295 with 20 doubles, five triples, 21 home runs, and 76 RBIs in only 73 contests with the Lake Elsinore Storm (High A).

Johnson, who will turn 31 on June 25, graduated from Clemson with a degree in career & technology education in 2008. The Georgetown, SC native is married to the former Carrie Breed. The couple has a son, William Michael III (1). Johnson was born June 25, 1980 in Georgetown, SC.

2010 REVIEW

TIGERS REACHED THE FINAL FOUR OF THE COLLEGE WORLD SERIES

With this swing and subsequent home run against Auburn in the championship game of the Auburn Regional on June 7, Kyle Parker became the first Division I athlete in history to total 20 passing touchdowns and 20 homers in the same academic year. It was also key in Clemson's 13-7 victory that propelled the Tigers to the Clemson Super Regional and the Final Four of the College World Series.

2010 Season Notes

Clemson Made 12th Trip to the CWS

Clemson made its 12th trip to the College World Series and its sixth appearance in the last 16 years. The Tigers won their first two games over Arizona State (6-3) and Oklahoma (6-4) before falling twice to South Carolina (5-1, 4-3). Clemson also made it to Omaha in 1995, 1996, 2000, 2002, and 2006 under Head Coach Jack Leggett.

Clemson's NCAA Tournament Leaders

John Hinson was Clemson's hottest hitter in the NCAA Tournament. The sophomore, who was named to the All-College World Series team, was 21-for-44 (.477) with five homers, one double, one triple, 13 RBIs, 13 runs, four walks, and three steals in 11 games. Freshman Richie Shaffer added three long balls and 12 RBIs. As a team, Clemson batted .313 with 12 homers, 22 doubles, three triples, and eight steals in the NCAA Tournament.

The pitching staff had a 4.04 ERA and .276 opponents' batting average. In 98.0 innings pitched over 11 games, the staff yielded just 28 walks against 77 strikeouts, good for a 2.75-to-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio. In three starts and one relief appearance, Scott Weismann was 3-0 with a 2.45 ERA, while Casey Harman was 2-2 with a 2.73 ERA.

With Clemson's appearance in the 2010 College World Series, the Tigers' streak of going no more than three years in a row without a CWS appearance continued. That means that every Tiger since the freshman class of 1988 who has been in the program and been on the postseason roster for four consecutive years has made at least one trip to Omaha. The last time the Tigers went four straight years without a trip to Omaha was 1987-90.

Only three other schools have current streaks as long as the Tigers. Miami (FL) has not gone more than three years in a row without making it to Omaha since 1970-73, while Cal State Fullerton (1971-74) and Louisiana State (1982-85) also have streaks longer than the Tigers'.

Tigers Played in Ninth Super Regional

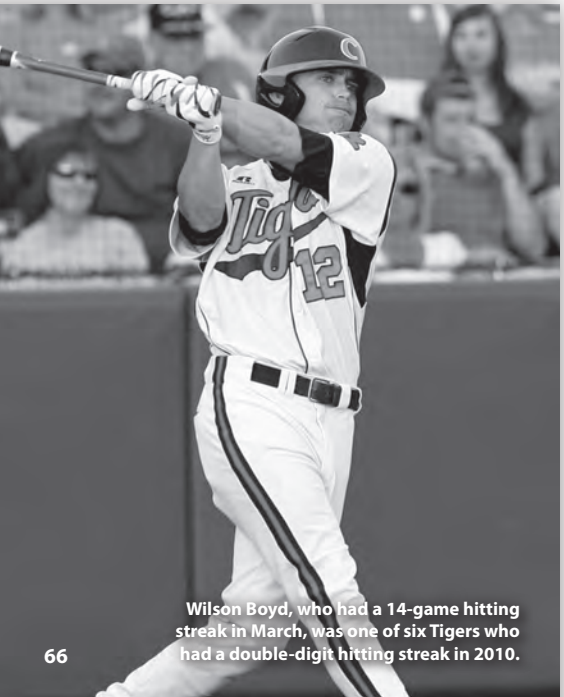

Clemson made its ninth super regional appearance in the 12th year of the super regional format in 2010. Since 1999, Clemson has missed playing in a super regional just three times (2003,04,08). Clemson has been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1987, with the exception of the 2008 season.

Clemson is tied for fourth in the nation in super regional appearances. Cal State Fullerton, Florida State, and Miami (FL) have all been to 10 super regionals, while Clemson is tied with Rice for fourth. In terms of all-time wins in regional and super regional play, the Tigers have 93, seventh-most in NCAA history.

Wilson Boyd, who had a 14-game hitting streak in March, was one of six Tigers who had a double-digit hitting streak in 2010.

Tigers Earned 35th NCAA Tournament Bid

Clemson played in its 35th all-time NCAA Regional in 2010. The 35 appearances are sixth-most in NCAA history, trailing only Texas (54), Florida State (48), Miami (FL) (39), Oklahoma State (37), and Southern California (36).

Worth Noting

- Clemson had 22 come-from-behind wins in 2010.
- Six Tigers combined for eight double-digit hitting streaks in 2010. The six players were Brad Miller (20,10), Mike Freeman (18,14), Wilson Boyd (14), John Hinson (14), Will Lamb (11), and John Nester (11).
- Kyle Parker, who was the #26 overall pick of the 2010 Major League draft, was the only first-round draft pick who was a member of one of the eight teams that made it to the 2010 College World Series.

Polls

The Tigers moved up four spots to #4 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll after going 2-2 in the College World Series to close the season. Clemson also moved up 16 spots to #4 in the final Sports Weekly coaches poll and #10 in the final Baseball America ranking after not being ranked in the top 25 of its previous poll.

With Clemson's final top-25 ranking, it marked the 37th week in a row the Tigers were ranked in the top 25 of at least one of the three major polls dating to the start of the 2009 season. Clemson has also had at least one final top-25 ranking in 14 of Head Coach Jack Leggett's first 17 seasons in Tigertown.

Strength of Schedule #5

In 2010, Clemson had an unofficial strength of schedule of #5 according to WarrenNolan.com. Clemson had a 25-17 record against teams with an RPI of 50 or better. Only three other schools had more top-50 RPI wins than the Tigers. There were 301 schools that played Division I baseball in 2010.

Tigers Captured ACC Atlantic Division Title

Thanks to a regular-season-ending sweep over #7 Florida State at Doug Kingsmore Stadium from May 20-22, the Tigers captured their first ACC Atlantic Division title since 2006 and their second overall since the league was split into divisions in 2006. Clemson finished in a tie with Florida State at 18-12, but the Tigers claimed the division championship thanks to the three-game sweep over the Seminoles.

On Base

Hits...walks...hit-by-pitches. When it came to those three cumulative categories, Clemson had one of its best seasons in recent history. In 70 games, the Tigers totaled 764 hits, 375 walks, and 60 hit-by-pitches. That adds to 1,199 times on base, an average of 17.1 per game. It was better than the 2002 team's mark of 17.0. That squad featured the likes of Khalil Greene, Jeff Baker, and Michael Johnson. The 2010 mark was the best by a Tiger team since 1999 (18.2).

Tigers Set School Record For Grand Slams

Clemson totaled nine grand slams in 2010, most in school history. Furthermore, eight different Tigers accounted for the nine grand slams. The nine grand slams broke the previous Clemson record of six, held by the 1991 and 2004 teams. The national record for grand slams in one season is 12, set by Oklahoma State in 1996.

The Tigers pulled off a rare feat of hitting two grand slams at #15 South Carolina on March 7, 2010. Chris Epps and Phil Pohl both hit grand slams in Clemson's 19-6 win. It was the first time the Tigers hit two grand slams in one game since March 3, 1991. That day, the Tigers did so in a 17-5 win over Louisiana-Lafayette at Las Vegas, NV.

When Brad Miller hit a grand slam against #16 Alabama in the Clemson Super Regional on June 13, he became the first Tiger to hit two grand slams in one season since 2006, when Andy D'Alessio hit two. D'Alessio also hit two grand slams in 2005.

Thievery

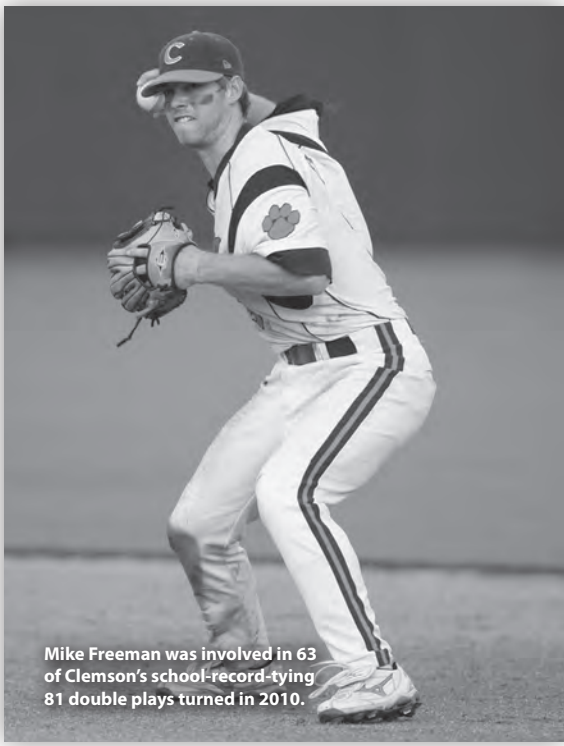

Clemson stole 106 bases (1.5 per game) in 2010, a big reason the Tigers averaged 8.6 runs per contest. The Tigers reached the 100 stolen-base mark for the first time since 2006, when that team swiped 107 bases. Furthermore, it was only the second time in the last 10 seasons that a Tiger team stole 100 bases in a season. John Hinson had a team-high 25 stolen bases, while Chris Epps (16), Will Lamb (14), and Mike Freeman (11) also totaled double-digit steals.

Tigers Among Nation's Best in Turning Double Plays

Clemson turned 81 double plays in 2010, tying the school record also held by the 1995 team. Second-baseman Mike Freeman played a big role in Clemson turning 81 double plays in 2010. He was involved in 63 of the 81 double plays. Freeman was also a big reason Clemson was second in the nation and first in the ACC in double plays in 2010.

Clemson #7 in the Nation in Average Attendance

A total of 164,285 fans were in attendance for Clemson's 35 home dates in 2010, an average of 4,694 per date. That figure was seventh in the nation and highest in the ACC. It was also the fourth-best figure in Tiger history. Clemson's top-10 figure marked the 17th straight top-20 national standing and ninth in a row in the top 10.

Mike Freeman was involved in 63 of Clemson's school-record-tying 81 double plays turned in 2010.

Three Tigers Named to All-ACC Team

Three Tigers were named First or Second-Team All-ACC in 2010. Junior outfielder Kyle Parker was the Tigers' lone First-Team All-ACC selection, while senior second-baseman Mike Freeman and junior outfielder Jeff Schaus were named Second-Team All-ACC. The team was compiled by a vote of the 12 ACC head coaches.

It was the second time Parker was named First-Team All-ACC, as he received that same honor as a freshman in 2008. Parker became the first two-time, First-Team All-ACC player at Clemson since Kris Harvey accomplished the same feat in 2004 and 2005. Schaus was also a First-Team All-ACC selection as a sophomore in 2009.

In 2010, Parker hit .344 with a team-high 20 homers, 15 doubles, 64 RBIs, 85 runs, a .656 slugging percentage, 56 walks, a .478 on-base percentage, and four steals in 67 games. Schaus batted .320 with 15 homers, 14 doubles, two triples, an ACC-high 87 RBIs, 69 runs, and nine steals in 70 games. Freeman hit .331 with eight homers, 24 doubles, one triple, 57 RBIs, 68 runs, and 11 steals along with an outstanding .975 fielding percentage.

Six Tigers Picked in Major League Draft

Six Tigers were taken in the 2010 Major League draft from June 7-9. Junior outfielder and first-baseman Kyle Parker was a first-round draft selection (#26 overall pick) of the Colorado Rockies, becoming Clemson's first first-round draft pick since 2007, when lefthander Daniel Moskos was picked #4 overall by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Parker was also the 14th first-round draft pick in Tiger history.

On day-two of the draft, senior second-baseman Mike Freeman was picked in the 11th round (#331 overall pick) by the Arizona Diamondbacks. It was the third time Freeman was taken in the Major League draft, as he was also selected in 2006 and 2009. Fellow infielder and sophomore John Hinson was taken in the 13th round (#411 overall pick) by the Philadelphia Phillies, junior outfielder Jeff Schaus was picked in the 27th round (#810 overall pick) by the Cleveland Indians, and junior lefthander Casey Harman was chosen in the 29th round (#880 overall pick) by the Chicago Cubs.

On day-three of the draft, junior catcher and first-baseman John Nester was drafted in the 39th round (#1175 overall pick) by the Oakland Athletics.

With the six selections, Jack Leggett has had a total of 84 players drafted in his 17 seasons as head coach at Clemson. Fifteen of those 84 players were drafted twice, meaning a Tiger has been drafted 99 times in his tenure. Thirteen more Tigers have signed free-agent contracts as well.

* - spent one season as a red-shirt player

Frederick Saved Both Wins in Omaha

Alex Frederick recorded two saves in the 2010 NCAA Tournament, both of which came in the College World Series in wins over #1 Arizona State and #6 Oklahoma. Only three other Tigers have recorded two career saves in NCAA Tournament play. And only one (Dave Woessner) had two saves in a single NCAA Tournament (1977). David Tripp (1988-90) and Jeff Sauve (1992-95) also had two career saves in the NCAA Tournament.

Harman Tossed Complete Game in Auburn Regional

Casey Harman pitched his first career complete game in Clemson's 5-2 win over #14 Auburn in the Auburn Regional on June 5. In fact, in his previous 64 appearances (30 starts), he had never pitched more than 7.2 innings. But against the SEC Tigers in front of a hostile crowd, the junior lefthander pitched a gem to earn one of two spots on the Auburn Regional All-Tournament team.

In 9.0 innings pitched, he allowed just five hits, two runs, and one walk with eight strikeouts while keeping the potent Auburn offense off-balance during the entire game. Auburn entered the regional first in the nation in homers, second in slugging percentage, seventh in batting average, and ninth in runs per game. He also limited Auburn to 0-for-11 with runners on base and 0-for-9 with two outs.

Perhaps the most impressive aspect of his outing was the fact that Harman allowed just three Auburn baserunners to advance past first base, including one on a controversial hit-by-pitch that enabled the runner on first base to advance to second base. It was also the only complete game by a Tiger pitcher in 2010.

Hinson Belted Three Homers in One Game

John Hinson had a career day in Clemson's 22-4 victory over USC Upstate at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on April 21. He entered the game mired in an 0-for-14 slump, but he broke out of it in a big way. The third-baseman went 5-for-6 with three home runs and seven RBIs. He hit a solo homer in the second inning, a three-run homer in the third inning, and another three-run home run in the sixth inning.

Hinson became the 13th player in school history to hit three home runs in one game. The last Tiger to do it was his teammate Kyle Parker, who hit three long balls in the second game of a doubleheader at Wake Forest on March 9, 2008.

Hinson Had an NCAA Tourney to Remember

John Hinson was 21-for-44 (.477) with five homers, one double, one triple, 13 RBIs, 13 runs, an .886 slugging percentage, four walks, a .531 on-base percentage, and three steals in 11 NCAA Tournament games. His 21 hits set a school record for a single NCAA Tournament.

After earning MVP honors of the Auburn Regional, Hinson was 5-for-12 (.417) with two homers, five RBIs, five runs, two walks, and a steal in the three games of the Clemson Super Regional. Then in the College World Series, he was 7-for-16 (.438) with a triple, three RBIs, three runs, one walk, and two steals in four games and was named to the All-College World Series team.

Parker Moved Up the Tiger Home Run Charts

Junior outfielder and first-baseman Kyle Parker hit 20 home runs in 67 games in 2010. He hit .344 with 85 hits, 20 homers, one triple, 15 doubles, 64 RBIs, 85 runs, and four stolen bases along with a .656 slugging percentage and .478 on-base percentage. Of his 64 RBIs, 37 were two-out RBIs. He was named First-Team All-ACC in 2010, the second time he received that accolade. Parker was also named First-Team All-ACC as a freshman in 2008.

The 20 homers in 2010 gave him 46 career long balls, eighth-most in Clemson history. His 20 homers in 2010 were also 10th-most in a season in Tiger history. In 2009, Parker set the Clemson record for fewest games required to reach 25 career homers, as he did so in only 103 games. He totaled his 46 career home runs in 187 games.

Parker, who completed his red-shirt freshman campaign on the gridiron in 2009, led the Tigers to a 9-5 record, an appearance in the ACC Championship game, and a win over Kentucky in the Music City Bowl. The signal-caller threw for 2,526 yards on 205-369 passing and added 20 touchdowns in starting all 14 games. He was also a second-team freshman All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com.

Parker First to Join the "20-20" Club

In the winter of 2010, Kyle Parker privately told Head Football Coach Dabo Swinney that his goal for the 2009-10 academic year was a "20-20."

He had already thrown 20 touchdown passes on the football team, helping the Tigers to a top-25 final ranking and the ACC Atlantic Division title. He wanted to match that with 20 homers on the diamond, and thereby help Clemson to an ACC baseball title. After helping Clemson win the ACC Atlantic Division title on the diamond in late May thanks to a three-game sweep of #7 Florida State, he reached the 20-homer mark against #14 Auburn in the Auburn Regional Championship game on June 7 when he hit a three-run homer in the first inning.

Research that included contacting every Division I school that plays college football revealed that no student-athlete had ever achieved even a "20-15" in the same academic year, or any other year for that matter. On April 21, Parker hit a grand slam in the second inning of Clemson's 22-4 victory over USC Upstate. It was his 15th long ball of the year.

Only two other Division I football-baseball athletes in history have recorded a "20-10" (passing touchdowns and homers). Rodney Peete (Southern California) had 21 passing touchdowns in the fall of 1987, then hit 12 home runs for the Trojan baseball team in the spring of 1988. Josh Fields (Oklahoma State) had 21 passing touchdowns in the fall of 2003, then hit 10 homers in the spring of 2004.

Parker a First-Team All-American

Junior Kyle Parker was named a first-team All-American by Ping!Baseball, becoming Clemson's first All-American on the diamond since 2006. He also earned second-team All-America honors from Baseball America and NCBWA along with third-team All-America accolades from ABCA. Parker, who was a freshman All-American on the gridiron earlier in the 2009-10 academic year when he led the Tigers to a 9-5 record and an ACC Atlantic Division title, hit .344 with 20 homers, 15 doubles, one triple, 64 RBIs, 85 runs, a .656 slugging percentage, 56 walks, nine hit-by-pitches, a .478 on-base percentage, and four steals in 67 games in 2010. He also totaled 46 career home runs, eighth-most in school history.

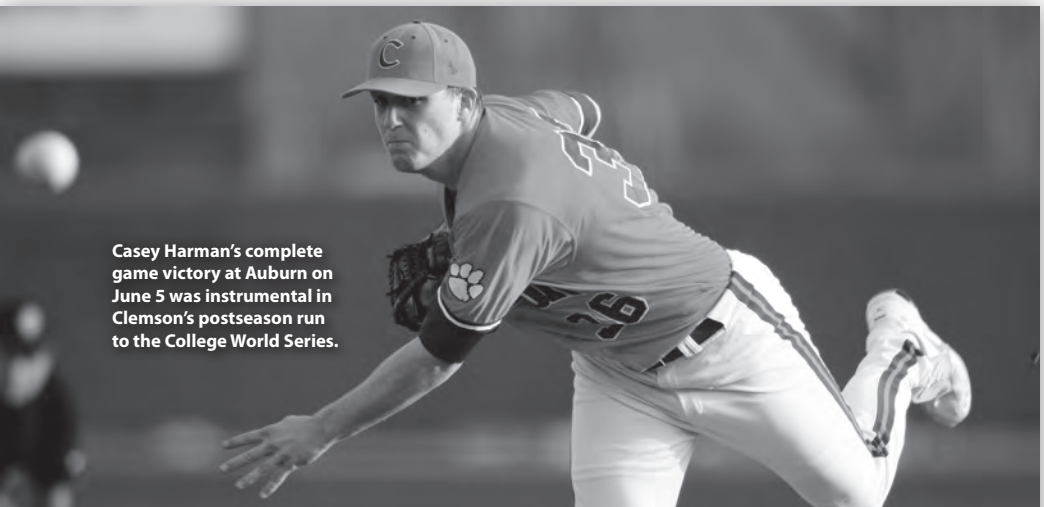

At #14 Auburn in the Auburn Regional Championship game on June 7, he clobbered his 20th home run of the season to become the first Division I athlete in history to accumulate 20 passing touchdowns and 20 home runs in the same academic year. That same day, he was drafted in the first round (#26 overall pick) of the Major League draft by the Colorado Rockies.

Schaus Led the ACC in RBIs

Junior outfielder Jeff Schaus was Clemson's lone All-ACC player in 2009. In 2010, he was named a Second-Team All-ACC outfielder thanks to hitting .320 with 15 homers, 14 doubles, two triples, 87 RBIs, 69 runs, and nine stolen bases in 70 games. Schaus, who led the ACC in RBIs, was the only Tiger to play and start all 70 games in 2010. In fact, Schaus has never missed a game, as he has played in all 195 games from 2008-10 and has missed just two starts (one in 2008 and one in 2009). His 87 RBIs also tied for second-most in a season in Tiger history and were fourth-most in the nation in 2010.

In his three-year career, Schaus is hitting .319 with 41 doubles, four triples, 31 homers, 168 RBIs, 170 runs, a .411 on-base percentage thanks to more walks (107) than strikeouts (83), and 22 stolen bases. He is also a career .334 hitter in ACC regular-season games.

Schaus earned a spot on the Auburn Regional All-Tournament team after going 6-for-18 (.333) with a double, five RBIs, and three runs in four games. Then in the Clemson Super Regional, he was 9-for-15 (.600) with two doubles and five RBIs. In 11 NCAA Tournament games in 2010, Schaus was 17-for-46 (.370) with three doubles and 12 RBIs.

Casey Harman's complete game victory at Auburn on June 5 was instrumental in Clemson's postseason run to the College World Series.

The 2010 season saw Clemson return to the College World Series for the 12th time in school history. Clemson also made its 23rd NCAA Tournament appearance in the last 24 years and its 35th overall (sixth-most in the nation) along with winning the ACC Atlantic Division title for the second time.

Clemson finished the season in top 20 of nine different NCAA categories. The Tigers were second in the nation with 81 doubles plays and sixth with 1.16 per game. The Tigers were third in the nation in walks (375), fifth in runs (600), tied for fifth in sacrifice flies (42), eighth in hits (764), tied for 15th in home runs (93), 19th in runs per game (8.6), and tied for 25th in steals (106).

Clemson broke the school record with nine grand slams, the 600 runs scored were third-most in school history, and the homer total was fourth. The Tigers also had one of their best seasons of getting on base. In 70 games, Clemson had 764 hits, 375 walks, and 60 hit-by-pitches for a total of 1,199 times on base or an average of 17.1 times per game, its highest mark since 1999.

Jack Leggett, in his 17th season as the Tigers' head coach, was named ABCA Atlantic Region Coach-of-the-Year. With 45 wins in 2010, Leggett upped his total to 769 at Clemson and 1,146 for his career.

Outfielder Kyle Parker, who was a first-team All-American and First-Team All-ACC, became the first player in NCAA history to hit 20 homers and throw 20 touchdown passes in the same academic year. By hitting 20 home runs, Parker also became only the ninth Tiger to hit at least 20 in a season. For the year, Parker hit .344 with 20 homers, 15 doubles, and 64 RBIs. He finished fifth in the country in runs (85) and 15th in walks (56).

Outfielder Jeff Schaus, who was named Second-Team All-ACC, hit .320 with 15 homers, 14 doubles, and 87 RBIs. His 87 RBIs were fourth-most in the nation, most in the ACC, and tied for the second-highest total in school history.

Second-baseman Mike Freeman, a co-captain for the second straight season, was named Second-Team All-ACC and finished 19th in the nation in hits (99). He batted .331 with a team-high 24 doubles and had two separate hitting streaks of at least 14 games. Freeman, who made numerous highlight-reel defensive plays, had 11 steals and was one of four Tigers with double-digit steals.

Shortstop Brad Miller hit a team-high .357 with eight homers, four triples, 19 doubles, and 49 RBIs. With 50 walks, good enough for 23rd-most in the country, and two hit-by-pitches, Miller had an outstanding .458 on-base percentage, as he reached base via a hit or walk in 66 of his 69 games.

Third-baseman John Hinson, who was coming off a back injury that forced him to miss the entire 2009 season, had a great all-around year. In 67 games (57 starts), he hit .351 with 17 homers, nine doubles, one triple, and 75 RBIs. He also led the team with 25 steals, the most by a Tiger since 2001.

The Tigers started a seven-game road swing with a trip to Maryland. In game-one, Freeman, who had graduated earlier that morning in Clemson, went 4-for-5 with three RBIs in an 18-6 win. Miller went 4-for-4 with three RBIs in game-two to lead Clemson to a 12-8 victory. The Tigers finished the sweep with a 7-5 win behind Parker's two-out, three-run homer in the sixth inning and Cruz's 4.2 masterful innings in relief.

2010 Season Review

John Hinson capped a stellar postseason by being named to the College World Series All-Tournament team in 2010.

After a 12-1 win over Furman at Fluor Field that featured homers by Hinson, Schaus, and Boyd, Clemson traveled to Wake Forest for its final ACC road trip of the year. The Demon Deacons scored eight runs in the fourth inning to defeat the Tigers 9-5. In game-two, Clemson scored 10 runs in the fifth inning en route to a 17-5 win. Wake Forest took the series with a 11-2 game-three win behind freshman Tim Cooney's 8.0 effective innings pitched.

After Clemson defeated Presbyterian College 8-2 behind two-run homers from Schaus and Stolz, the Tigers welcomed #7 Florida State to town in a series that would determine the ACC Atlantic Division champion. In game-one, the Tigers scored three runs in the eighth for a 9-8 come-from-behind win led by Miller, who was 5-for-5 with a homer, double, and three RBIs. Shaffer went 3-for-4 to lead the Tigers to an 8-4 game-two win and Frederick tossed 4.2 scoreless innings in an 8-3 game-three win. With the sweep, Clemson won the Atlantic Division title for the first time since 2006 and earned the #2 seed at the ACC Tourney at NewBridge Bank Park in Greensboro, NC.

In game-one, Clemson dropped a 13-8 decision to N.C. State behind five two-out Wolfpack runs in the sixth inning. In game-two against #18 Virginia Tech, the Tigers fought back from a 5-0 deficit to take a 6-5 lead, but the Hokies rallied for a 9-8 win in the teams' first-ever ACC Tournament meeting.

In game-three, Lamb pitched 6.1 strong innings to lead Clemson to a 9-3 win over #6 Georgia Tech. The win was the Tigers' 100th in ACC Tournament history.

The Tigers traveled to the Auburn (AL) Regional to open NCAA play. In game-one, Weismann pitched 7.0 solid innings and Clemson beat Southern Mississippi 10-1.

In game-two, Harman pitched his first career complete game in a five-hit performance to lead Clemson to a 5-2 over host and #14 Auburn. In Clemson's third game of the Auburn Regional, the host Tigers hit a three-run homer with two outs in the ninth inning to send them to a 11-10 win and to force a deciding game.

In the final game, Clemson scored three runs in both the first and second innings, then used three double plays to defeat Auburn 13-7 and claim the regional title.

Hinson was named Auburn Regional MVP after going 9-for-16 (.563) with three homers, one double, five RBIs, and five runs. Joining Hinson on the all-tournament team were Boyd, Freeman, Harman, Schaus, and Weismann.

The Tigers advanced to face #16 Alabama in the Clemson Super Regional, their ninth super-regional appearance. It was the first time since 2006 that Clemson hosted a super regional and marked the second straight year the Crimson Tide traveled to Clemson for NCAA Tourney play.

In game-one, Alabama scored four unearned runs in the third inning and held on for a 5-4 win.

Clemson responded in game-two with six runs in the first inning and nine runs in the sixth to defeat Alabama 19-5. The Tigers had six players with at least two hits and seven with at least two runs. Hinson, Shaffer, and Miller all hit home runs to pace Clemson's 20-hit attack.

In game-three, Clemson jumped out to an 8-1 lead behind Hinson's two-run homer and two long balls from Shaffer. The Tigers then withstood a ninth inning Alabama rally and held on for an 8-6 win to advance to the College World Series.

In the Tigers' first game, Harman and Frederick combined to limit #1 Arizona State to eight hits in Clemson's 6-3 win. Every Tiger starter had at least one hit, as Clemson won its fourth straight College World Series opener.

In game-two, Clemson scored six runs in the first five innings and held on for a 6-4 win over #6 Oklahoma in a game that took two days to complete due to inclement weather. Hinson led Clemson at the plate with three of the Tigers' six hits, as Clemson used eight walks and a Kieboom two-run single to defeat the Sooners.

In game-three in Omaha, Michael Roth pitched a complete-game three-hitter to lead #5 South Carolina to a 5-1 win to force a deciding game to determine who would advance to the championship series.

The following day, South Carolina scored two runs with two outs in the bottom of the seventh and held on to edge Clemson 4-3. Harman pitched 6.1 effective innings with five strikeouts against no walks, but he suffered the loss after the Tigers stranded nine runners on base. Hinson and Freeman each had two hits to lead Clemson at the plate. By going 7-for-16 (.438) with a triple, three RBIs, three runs, and two steals, Hinson was named to the All-College World Series team.

Clemson ended the season with a 45-25 record and was ranked #4 by both Collegiate Baseball and Sports Weekly in the final polls. The fans continued their strong support, as 164,285 fans attended the 35 home dates. The 4,694 fans per date was the fourth-highest average in school history and seventh-highest in the nation.

Six Tigers were chosen in the Major League draft. The Colorado Rockies picked Parker with the #26 overall pick of the draft. It marked the second straight season Colorado drafted the first Tiger taken in the draft. Parker was Clemson's first first-round draft pick since Daniel Moskos in 2007. Freeman, Hinson, Schaus, Harman, and Nester were also selected later in the draft.

The Tradition

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency. Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds.

Now in its 58th season, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive conferences in the country. And that is not mere conjecture...the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC institutions have combined for 121 national championships, including 65 in women's competition and 56 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 91 times in women's action.

Wake Forest won the ACC's first national baseball championship during the 1954 season. One of the league's newest members, Miami (FL), has claimed four national baseball championships (1982,85,99,01) during the last 29 years.

In 2010, the ACC produced another record season, as two members (Clemson, Florida State) advanced to the College World Series. It marked the fourth time in the last five years that the ACC sent multiple teams to the College World Series. During the last 14 years, the current 12 ACC schools have combined for 93 NCAA Tournament appearances, including a league-record eight in 2010, and 24 trips to the College World Series.

The ACC saw eight of its teams (Clemson, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Miami, North Carolina, N.C. State, Virginia, Virginia Tech) ranked nationally in the polls at some point during the 2010 season, and seven of those teams remained ranked in at least one poll entering NCAA Tournament competition.

Fourteen ACC student-athletes were named to at least one All-America team during the 2010 season. That included Clemson's Kyle Parker, who was a first-team All-American and a first-round draft selection by the Colorado Rockies. He led the Tigers to the ACC Atlantic Division title in both baseball and football (as the starting quarterback) in the 2009-10 academic year. Virginia won the ACC Coastal Division, while Florida State captured the ACC Tournament title in Greensboro, NC.

The ACC has consistently infused the Major Leagues with talented players. The 12 ACC schools have had 768 players selected in the draft since 1994, including 57 first-round picks. Last season, the ACC had four student-athletes selected in the first round, extending the ACC's streak of at least one student-athlete chosen in the first round to 19 consecutive years.

ACC
ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

The History

The ACC was founded on May 8, 1953 at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, NC with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, N.C. State, South Carolina, and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven institutions from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953 during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, NC, where a set of by-laws were adopted, and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Eddie Cameron of Duke recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed a $200 fee to pay for the league's expenses.

On December 4, 1953, ACC officials met again at the Sedgefield Inn and officially admitted Virginia as the ACC's eighth member. The first and only withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991 with the addition of Florida State.

Exactly 12 years later to the day, the ACC announced that Miami and Virginia Tech would join the conference for the 2004-05 academic year. A few months later, Boston College was admitted as the ACC's 12th member. The Eagles, formerly of the Big East Conference, began athletic competition in 2005-06.

TIGER BASEBALL TRADITIONS

Since 1991, every Tiger, including the 2010 seniors (pictured), who has been in the program and on the postseason roster for four consecutive years has made at least one trip to the College World Series. The last time the Tigers went four straight years without a trip to Omaha was 1987-90. Only three other schools in the country have current streaks as long as the Tigers' streak.

CLEMSON BASEBALL...

Championship Tradition

Clemson has made 12 appearances in the College World Series and has won 18 NCAA Regional Championships. The tradition dates to 1947, when Clemson advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament before losing to Yale and a first-baseman named George Bush. Clemson has gone to the College World Series six times (1995,96,00,02,06,10) in Head Coach Jack Leggett's 17 seasons in Tigertown.

Clemson has won an ACC regular-season title 22 times, more than double any other ACC school. Clemson has won 14 ACC titles, also more than any other school. The program has the most ACC Tournament titles (9) in history as well.

Jervey Athletic Center & McFadden Building

The Jervey Athletic Center, named in honor of one of Clemson's most beloved sons (Frank Johnstone Jervey), is a two-level complex that is the home of the University's intercollegiate athletic program. And during the 2009-10 academic year, Clemson added the McFadden Building, the former home of Tiger football, to house athletic department operations. It was named in honor of Banks McFadden, the greatest Tiger athlete of the 20th century who played three sports at Clemson in the late 1930s.

Jervey Athletic Center and McFadden Building houses under two roofs offices for all of the coaching and related staffs for Clemson's sports, a unique feature that places the center among the most modern of its kind anywhere. Within the complexes are all of the personnel and related facilities needed to conduct an effective, top-flight intercollegiate athletic program.

Beneath the main floor of Jervey Athletic Center are dressing rooms for the varsity sports. Other facilities on this level include coaches' dressing rooms, a spacious training room, sauna and steam rooms, and an athletic equipment room.

Attached to and complementing the administrative-coaching personnel building is a two-level, multi-purpose structure of 29,000 square-feet. The upper level of this building is where Jervey Gym is located. The Jervey Athletic Center provides student-athletes with the most modern and up-to-date facilities in the country. It is one reason the Clemson athletic program is recognized as one of the best in America.

Strength Training Room

One of the most important facilities on the Clemson athletic landscape is the strength & conditioning facility. Located in Jervey Athletic Center, it has continued to keep up with one of the most progressive areas in college sports. Director of Strength & Conditioning Joey Batson, who is in his 14th year, makes sure Clemson student-athletes in all sports are ready for competition.

Batson is one of the nation's most highly-regarded strength coaches. In his 13 years, he has coached numerous strength All-Americans. He is a major reason the baseball team has been a consistent participant in the NCAA Tournament. Also, nine of his former assistant strength coaches at Clemson are now strength training directors at NFL or college programs.

He recently oversaw a third major facility enhancement. When he came to Clemson, the facility covered 11,000 square feet. It has continued to grow and now covers nearly 15,000 square feet. It is one of the most modern all-around facilities in the country.

The following improvements were made:

- State-of-the-art sound system
- Eight flat-screen plasma televisions
- Two computerized message displays
- State-of-the-art ventilation system
- New lighting system
- 10 new multi-functional Clemson power racks
- Mondo-rubber flooring in the entire weightroom
- New orange upholstery on all weightlifting equipment
- New paint on surrounding walls and columns
- Carpeting in entrances and offices
- Front entrance drop ceiling
- Metal overlay for awards displays
- Reconstruction of entryway walls
- 30m turf training track

The plush atmosphere provides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place within the facility. When a student-athlete enters the etched-glass doors, he or she is greeted by nearly $700,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

The 10 plasma televisions/displays are positioned throughout the facility and are used for training and instruction, as strength coaches film athletes and work with them on their form.

Clemson has a staff of six full-time strength coaches along with one part-time assistant, three graduate assistants, and numerous student assistant coaches who ensure a Tiger baseball player receives as much individual attention as possible. Baseball Strength & Conditioning Coach Dennis Love makes training programs position specific, as they are designed to meet the specific needs of each player.

Athletic Training Room

The athletic training room is an important component of Clemson's athletic success. It is run by Danny Poole and houses the latest rehabilitation equipment. He heads up a staff of six full-time individuals with decades of experience. This staff (15 student and 10 graduate student athletic trainers) gives student-athletes the best possible care.

The athletic training room underwent renovations recently, making it one of the nation's top facilities. Along with cosmetic improvements, additions were made, including a hydrotherapy area, hot/cold jacuzzis, and a treatment tank with an underwater treadmill.

The athletic training room retained its whirlpools, isokinetic testing machine, numerous stationary bikes, upper-body exerciser, Stairmaster, and all the latest devices for all kinds of treatment. Doctors have offices and an orthopedic examining room, and there is a conference room and library. There are staff members present from 7:00 AM until late in the evening, and doctors staff the room daily from 1:30 PM until closing and are available at all hours for special situations.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium's playing surface is one of the best in the country thanks to the dedication of many members of the Tiger Grounds Crew. Mike Echols, supervisor of athletic grounds for the past 10 years and former Clemson golfer (1981-83), heads up the team that was recently honored.

Prior to the 2005 season, ABCA and Turface Athletics awarded Echols and the grounds crew, which includes many volunteers, as having the best collegiate baseball field in the country based on their exemplary infield and turf maintenance programs. It is a distinction the grounds crew members take great pride in.

Today, the Tiger Grounds Crew has former members working for the Atlanta Braves, Baltimore Orioles, Boston Red Sox, New York Mets, and many other venues across the country.

"Mike and his staff exemplify what Clemson is all about," said Head Coach Jack Leggett. "They exhibit tremendous pride and a never-ending work ethic.

"We play on many fields and are familiar with a lot of grounds crews. But our players and coaches always comment that we have the best. The pride in their work is far above any I've seen. Our players, coaches, and fans appreciate their dedication."

DOUG KINGSMORE STADIUM

Doug Kingsmore Stadium, the home of Tiger baseball since 1970, has seen many changes and improvements over the years, but it has not lost its aesthetic beauty and unique feel on the west side of the Clemson University campus.

Former Clemson baseball star and Board of Trustees Emeritus Doug Kingsmore gave the athletic department a $1 million gift towards renovation of Clemson's baseball stadium, formerly known as Tiger Field. And during the 2002 and 2003 offseasons, Doug Kingsmore Stadium underwent radical renovations. Over $5 million was spent to make the facility among the best in the nation.

Kingsmore played for the Tiger varsity squad for three seasons (1952-54). An All-ACC and All-District III outfielder in 1954, Kingsmore became the first Tiger in history to hit 10 home runs in a season. He did that in 1954 while playing just 24 games. He led the ACC in home runs and runs (25) that year, and he led the Tigers in batting average (.371), slugging percentage (.742), and RBIs (27).

Kingsmore played three years of professional baseball in the Baltimore Oriole organization before beginning a successful business career. He served three terms on the Clemson University Board of Trustees and became Trustee Emeritus when his elected term expired in 2002.

In 2010, the Tigers finished their home season with a 29-9 record and hosted the Clemson Super Regional thanks in part to the tremendous home-field advantage that Doug Kingsmore Stadium provides. A total of 17,620 fans were in attendance for the three games of the Clemson Super Regional, as the Tigers won the final two games over Alabama to advance to the College World Series.

Clemson was #7 in the country and #1 in the ACC in average attendance (4,694) in 2010. It marked Clemson's 17th straight top-20 national finish in attendance and ninth season in a row in the top 10.

This outstanding fan support from the Clemson community and the Upstate of South Carolina has contributed to the Tigers' outstanding home-field record. Clemson has played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium for 41 years and has a winning percentage of 81 percent. That includes a record of 328-81 in ACC regular-season contests, an 80-percent mark.

The Tigers have won at least 69 percent of their home games in 24 of the last 25 seasons. Clemson is 492-123 (.800) at Doug Kingsmore Stadium during Jack Leggett's 17 years as head coach of the Tigers.

Nine times during the 1994 season, an opposing top-20 team tasted defeat at Doug Kingsmore Stadium, and four times a team ranked in the top three in the country lost to the Tigers. Seven wins against top-20 teams, including three wins over a top-10 Florida State squad, were recorded at home in 1996.

In 2000, the Tigers were 8-3 against top-25 foes at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. After Clemson won three games against #2 Florida State, Seminole Head Coach Mike Martin voiced his opinion on how tough it is to play at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

"If you had told me in 1992 that we were going to go to a place where we'd be 2-13 over the next eight years, I would have gone to the administration and suggested we join another conference," Martin told the Tallahassee Democrat. "Clemson is a very tough place to play...the toughest place to play of any place I've ever competed in all my years of college baseball. The good news is it's 727 days before we have to go back to Clemson."

In 2006, the Tigers had a 17-2 record against top-25 ranked foes at Doug Kingsmore Stadium, including series sweeps of top-10 South Carolina (2), #12 N.C. State (3), #13 Florida State (3), and #22 Wake Forest (3).

Doug Kingsmore Stadium

Doug Kingsmore Stadium has seen steady improvement since its first season in 1970 and is now one of the top facilities in the country. Just ask people at Baseball America, who released a coaches' ranking that named it one of the nation's best facilities in 2003. And that ranking was done before any of the recent renovations were finished. Evidence of its rating among facilities across the nation has been demonstrated in recent years, when Doug Kingsmore Stadium was named as a site for a regional and/or a super regional in 1994, 1995, 1996, 1998, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2005, 2006, 2009, and 2010.

The renovations to Doug Kingsmore Stadium began in the summer of 2002, which has kept Clemson's ballpark among the country's best. The stadium has a brick façade that surrounds every entrance. A green roof that covers much more of the stands and a press box that is twice as large adds to the comfort of fans attending the game and the media covering it. The press box, which is accessible by elevator, includes four large booths for broadcasting and a separate media center that accommodates 13 writers.

There is also a patio area outside the press box that is above the existing stands along the first and third-base lines. It is used for receptions and other events.

Two ticket booths, concession stands with an adjoining picnic area, and enlarged restrooms make the facility easily accessible and fan-friendly. Reserved seats have also been added to the grandstand. A grand stairway leading from the McFadden Building parking lot to the main entrance is an added feature from a convenience and aesthetic aspect.

The players also realize improvements, as four batting cages were constructed beyond the right-field fence. The dugouts were almost doubled in length and width. And the players have a spacious locker room and lounge.

Prior to the 2005 season, PawVision, the replay screen that was used in the football stadium, was moved to Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Prior to the 2008 season, new lights were installed, then before the 2009 season, a practice facility with field turf was constructed behind the batting cages. Additional chairback seats were also added behind the right-field fence.

Prior to the 2010 campaign, the Thomas F. Chapman Grandstand was constructed behind the left-field fence, adding approximately 1,000 seats. Chapman, who was a two-time All-ACC pitcher at Clemson from 1963-65, gave $2 million to the University, $1 million of which went to the grandstands.

In future years, the stadium will continue with upgrades, including a new three-story building behind the first-base grandstand. It will have a new clubhouse, baseball hall of fame, and players' lounge among other amentities.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium is equipped with a "Super-Sopper," which cuts down on rainouts. Clemson is one of a few schools in the nation with this machine that removes water from the field.

The stadium is located in the middle of Clemson's athletic facilities. It is across the street from Littlejohn Coliseum, home of Tiger basketball, and Memorial Stadium, home of Clemson football. It is located directly behind Jervey Athletic Center, home of the athletic administrative offices.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium has 4,500 permanent seats, but is capable of holding 6,346 fans thanks to a hill area down the left-field line that is popular with the Clemson student-body. The stadium attendance record was set on March 7, 2004 when 6,480 fans saw #5 South Carolina defeat the Tigers 8-7 in 10 innings.

In 2001, the ballpark shrank its dimensions. The fences are now 320 feet down the left-field line, 370 feet in left-center, 400 feet to straight-away center, 370 feet in the right-center alley, and 330 feet down the right-field line.

The park also features a unique terrace in the outfield area adjacent to the fence, similar to the old Crosley Field in Cincinnati, OH, which ironically was torn down the year Doug Kingsmore Stadium was built. The late Bill Wilhelm, Clemson's longtime coach who was the skipper when the field was constructed, liked the look and practicality of a field with grass all the way around the outfield instead of gravel or dirt.

Catcher Jason Varitek, who played at Georgia Tech in the 1990s, said Doug Kingsmore Stadium was his favorite venue to play at. "They had rowdy fans. And the fans are right on the action. They were closer to the on-deck circle than we were."

How Badly Do You Want It?

2010 Fall Omaha Challenge

In the fall of 1998, Head Coach Jack Leggett conceived a competition to test his players and help them reach their strength goals. Twelve years later, the Omaha Challenge still serves as an intense form of evaluation to measure muscular endurance, mental toughness, and develop team unity using a variety of resistance, agility, and conditioning tests.

Before the 2011 season, the fielders competed against each other, as did the pitchers. The fielders performed the bench press (135 pounds), pullups, towel hang, shuttle run, sled pull, "Omaha Four-Lapper" (2.2 miles), and agility course. The pitchers performed in the same events as the fielders, except the pitchers did a dumbbell bench press (55 pounds).

Freshman Jon McGibbon captured the fielders' competition with 590 points. Freshman Clay Bates won the pitchers' event, totaling 635 points.

Jeff Baker
Chicago Cubs

Jeff Baker, who shares the Tiger career record for homers (59), made his Major League debut in 2005 with the Rockies and was with the Cubs in 2010. Baker finished his Tiger career with a .334 batting average along with 226 RBIs and a .626 slugging percentage. His 59 career homers are tied for fourth-most in ACC history, and his RBI total is second-most in Clemson history.

Baker was the starting shortstop for the Tigers' College World Series team in 2000 as a freshman, as he had a .313 batting average along with a team-best 11 homers and 64 RBIs. He was a freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball. Baker was then named first-team All-American by Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball in 2001. His sophomore year also saw Baker earn First-Team All-ACC honors after leading the conference in homers (23) and RBIs (75).

As a junior on Clemson's 2002 College World Series team, Baker was named a first-team All-American by Baseball America and NCBWA. He hit .325 with 25 homers and 87 RBIs. His 25 long balls tied for second in the ACC, tied for the fifth-best mark in ACC history, and tied for the second-best mark in Clemson history. Baker was one of five finalists for the Golden Spikes Award and was a semifinalist for both the Dick Howser Trophy and Rotary Smith Award.

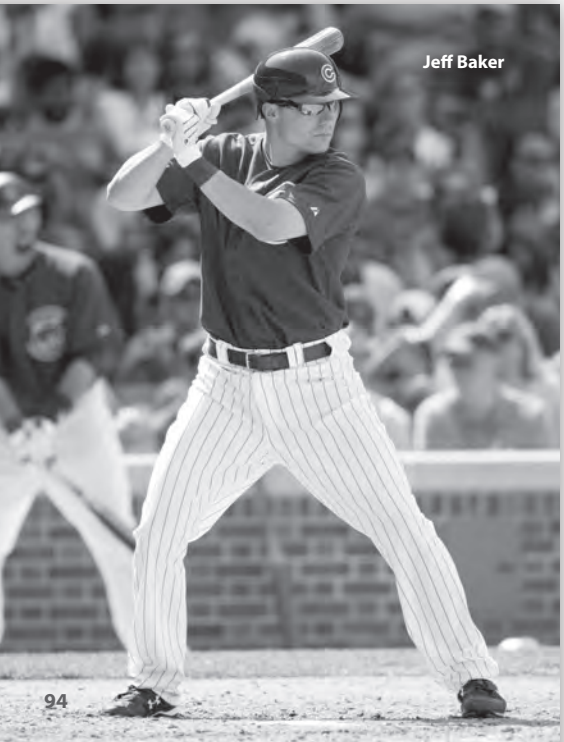

Baker made his Major League debut on April 4, 2005 an impressive one, as he went 2-for-5 with a homer, double, and two RBIs. He played 12 games for Colorado in 2005 and had a .211 batting average.

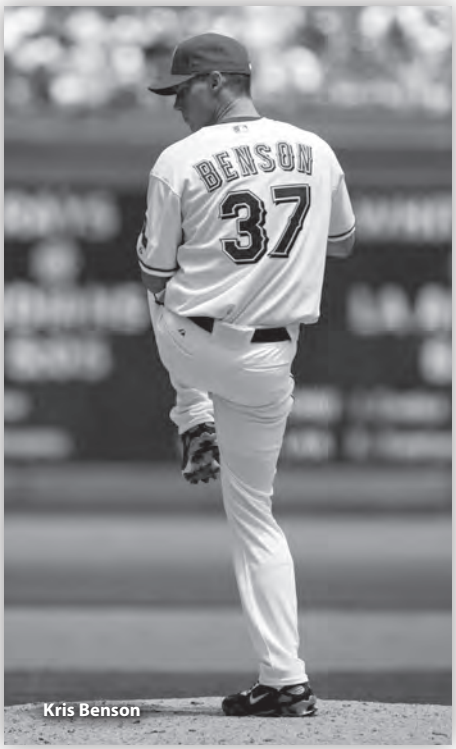

In 2006, he moved to right field and played 18 games. In 57 at-bats, he hit .368 with seven doubles, two triples, five homers, and 21 RBIs.

The 2007 season saw Baker play 85 games. He hit .222 with four homers and 12 RBIs for the National League Champions. Baker also delivered the game-winning, pinch-hit, RBI single to give the Rockies a 2-1 series-clinching win over the Phillies in the National League Division Series.

In 2008, he hit .268 with 55 runs, 22 doubles, 12 homers, and 48 RBIs in 104 games. In 2009, he played his first 12 games with the Rockies before he was acquired by the Cubs. Overall, he batted .288 with four homers and 24 RBIs in 81 games in 2009. In 2010, Baker batted .272 with four homers, 13 doubles, and 21 RBIs in 79 games.

Kris Benson
Arizona Diamondbacks

Kris Benson, the most prolific pitcher in Tiger history, spent his ninth season in the Major Leagues with the Arizona Diamondbacks in 2010. Then in January, he announced his retirement from the game.

Benson was a strong performer for the Tigers in his first two seasons, finishing in the top 10 in the ACC in wins, ERA, opponents' batting average, and walks per nine innings pitched. His numbers were remarkable in 1996, finishing first or second in the ACC in all major categories. He was named the consensus national player-of-the-year, consensus first-team All-American, pitched for the United States in the Olympic Games in Atlanta, and was selected by the Pirates with the #1 overall pick of the 1996 draft. He was only the second Clemson athlete in any sport to be named national player-of-the-year and the first #1 pick in Tiger history, regardless of sport.

Benson spent two years in the minor leagues, but quickly made his mark by becoming only the second #1 overall pick to win his Major League debut, defeating the Cubs 2-1. After a successful 2000 season, in which he set the Pirate record for strikeouts by a righthander, he was sidelined for the 2001 season due to an elbow surgery. Upon his return in 2002, he was a bright spot on a struggling Pirate team.

After an injury-plagued 2003, Benson returned in 2004 to make 31 starts for the Pirates and Mets, who acquired him via trade in July. He had a 10-8 record and 4.13 ERA in 28 starts with the Mets in 2005.

Traded to the Orioles before the 2006 season, Benson made 30 starts. He had an 11-12 record and 4.82 ERA in his first season in the American League.

After two years away from baseball, Benson joined the Phillies' AAA team in 2008 and signed with the Rangers before the 2009 season. He appeared in eight games for the Rangers and had a 1-1 record. In 2010 with the Diamondbacks, he was 1-1 with a 5.14 ERA in three starts.

In nine Major League seasons, Benson made 200 starts and six relief appearances for a total of 1243.2 innings pitched. He also had a 70-75 record and 4.42 ERA along with 806 strikeouts.

Baltimore Orioles

Jason Berken, the first member of Clemson's 2006 team to reach the Majors, made his Major League debut on May 26, 2009 as the starting pitcher for the Orioles against the Blue Jays. Berken pitched at Clemson during the 2003, 2004, and 2006 seasons. He finished his career with an 18-6 record, 3.04 ERA, and 156 strikeouts in 186.2 innings pitched.

After being drafted by the Orioles in the sixth round in 2006, Berken spent less than two years in the Orioles' minor-league system.

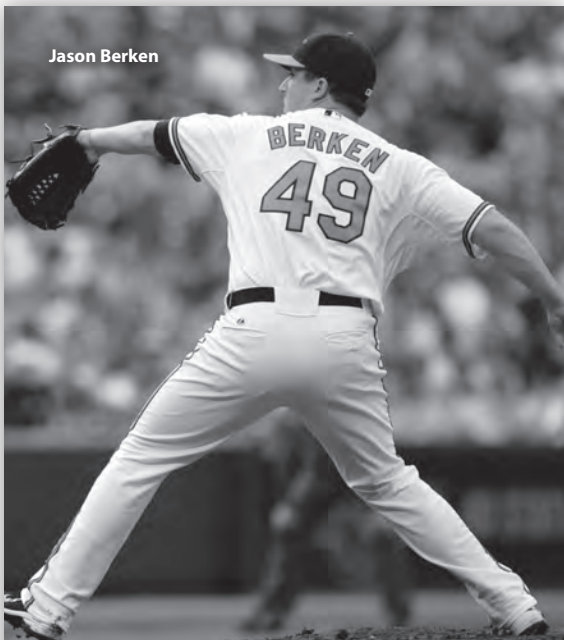

In 2009, he made 24 starts for the Orioles. In just his second start, he pitched 7.0 innings and allowed only one run. For the year, he was 6-12 with a 6.54 ERA in 24 starts.

In 2010, Berken moved to the bullpen and made 41 relief appearances. He was 3-3 with a 3.03 ERA and 45 strikeouts against 19 walks in 62.1 innings pitched.

Tyler Colvin
Chicago Cubs

Tyler Colvin, the #13 overall pick of the 2006 draft, made his Major League debut with the Cubs on September 21, 2009 and was the second member of the 2006 team to make his Major League debut in 2009.

In 2004 as a Tiger, Colvin hit .289 in 52 games (31 starts) and tied a school record with three doubles against Florida State. In 2005, Colvin hit .283 with a team-high 12 steals in 65 starts. He received the Bob Bradley Award as Clemson's MVP of the South Carolina series. He again tied a Tiger record with three doubles at N.C. State and had a 19-game hitting streak in 2005.

Colvin had an outstanding 2006 season, leading Clemson to the College World Series. He batted .356 with 13 homers, 70 RBIs, and 23 steals in 69 starts. He was a first-team All-American by Baseball America and NCBWA. He was also the ACC Tournament MVP, as he led Clemson to its first ACC title since 1994.

In 2006, Colvin also had a 26-game hitting streak, the fourth-longest streak in school history, and hit the first walkoff grand slam in Clemson history in a thrilling super-regional win over Oral Roberts.

After spending four years (2006-09) in the Cubs' minor-league system, Colvin joined Chicago in Milwaukee and started his first game in 2009. He registered a hit in his first Major League at-bat and earned the play-of-the-day on MLB.com in his second game, as he made a catch to rob a home run in the ninth inning. In all, Colvin played six games (five starts) for the Cubs and hit .176 in 2009.

In 2010, he batted .254 with 20 homers, 18 doubles, five triples, 56 RBIs, and 60 runs in 135 games. Late in the season at Florida, he was impaled by a broken bat and missed the final week of the season. He still was among the 2010 National League leaders for homers by a rookie.

In two Major League seasons, Colvin is batting .251 with 20 home runs, 58 RBIs, 18 doubles, and five triples in 141 games.

Steven Jackson was a four-year standout on the mound for the Tigers from 2001-04. In 2001, Jackson emerged as a midweek starter early in the season and appeared in 16 games (six starts). In 2002, he had a 6-1 record and 5.37 ERA in 16 appearances (12 starts).

In 2003, Jackson emerged during the last month of the year as the team's top starter and ended with a 7-3 record and 4.27 ERA in 13 starts. After the season, he was drafted by the Indians in the 32nd round, but he chose to return to Tigertown for his senior campaign.

As a team captain in 2004, Jackson was 4-3 with a 3.56 ERA in 22 appearances. In his first start of the year and his first-ever outing against the rival Gamecocks, he earned the win at #6 South Carolina. After the season, the Diamondbacks drafted Jackson in the 10th round.

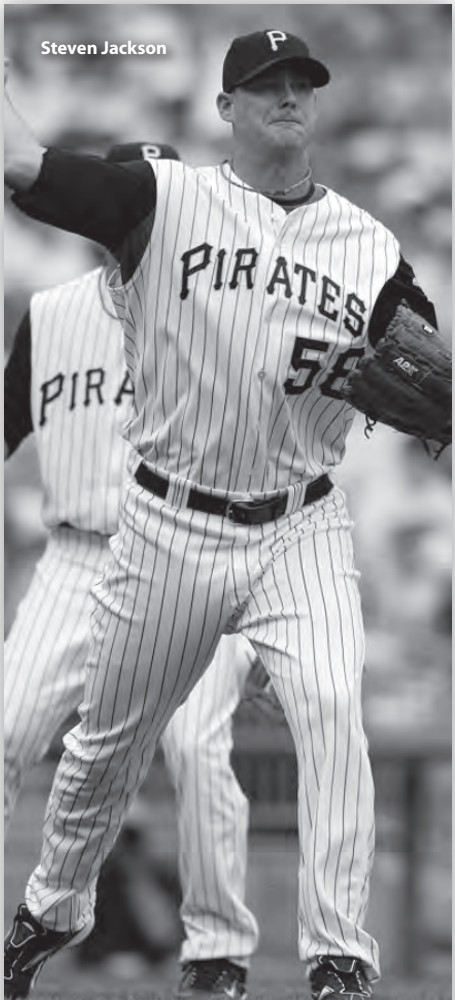

Jackson spent the 2004-06 seasons in the Diamondbacks' minor-league system before he was traded to the Yankees. He spent the next three years in their farm system and was called up in 2009. He warmed up in the Yankee bullpen on at least one occasion, but he never made an appearance in pinstripes. He was then traded to the Pirates later in the year. He made his Major League debut on June 1, 2009.

Jackson made 40 relief appearances for the Pirates in 2009. He had a 2-3 record and 3.14 ERA in 43.0 innings pitched over 40 relief appearances. In 2010, he had an 0-1 record and 8.74 ERA in 11 relief appearances.

Bob Mahony, who currently serves as Clemson's assistant director of major gifts, lettered two times (1975,76) as a Tiger.

Bill Wilhelm

In his 36 years as a head coach, all in Tigertown, the late Bill Wilhelm amassed a record of 1,161-536-10 (.683), making him the fifth-winningest coach in the history of college baseball at the time of his retirement. Wilhelm earned his place among the true legends of college baseball and is still tied for the 16th-winningest head coach in NCAA Division I history.

Serving as head baseball coach at one school for your entire career is quite an accomplishment. Having 36 seasons under your belt is an even greater accomplishment. But spending your entire 36-year career at one school and never having a losing season is incredible. That is one of many accomplishments for the former Tiger coach.

Wilhelm coached his first game at Clemson, a 7-5 win against Michigan State, on March 24, 1958, and the wins never stopped in his 36 years and 1,707 games.

Wilhelm had five different teams record at least 50 wins, but his 1993 and last edition may have been his most overachieving one. The ACC Tourney proved to be magic, as the Tigers went through the five-day tourney with a 5-1 record, including a come-from-behind 11-7 win over N.C. State in the title game.

Clemson received a #2 seed in the Mideast Regional in Knoxville, TN, the sixth-straight year the Tigers were a #1 or #2 seed heading into NCAA play. In the regional, the 1993 team set the Tiger record for wins against top-25 teams in a season (13), so the 45 wins were accomplished against a tough schedule. Thirty-two of the 65 games were against teams that played in the NCAA Tournament.

Although he had many rewarding years at Clemson, the 1991 season was his most successful in terms of wins. The Tigers ran up a 60-10 record that season, the best record in the nation, captured the ACC regular-season title, swept the ACC Tourney and the NCAA Northeast Regional, and earned a berth to the College World Series. The 60 wins set a league record for victories in a season, breaking the old record of 54, set by the 1987 and 1988 teams.

Wilhelm's 1991 team ranked #4 in Baseball America's final poll. The trip to Omaha marked the sixth of his career, and the Tigers' ACC title was his 10th as Clemson's head coach. He was named District III Diamond Coach-of-the-Year along with ACC Coach-of-the-Year in 1991.

In his last years at Clemson, Wilhelm took the Tigers to the NCAA Tourney seven times and his teams posted a 356-115-1 record during that period, an average of nearly 51 wins a year. He took a team to the NCAA Tournament 17 times in his career.

Wilhelm's 1,161 victories are one of the highest totals in any sport by an ACC head coach. He posted a record of 381-158-1 in ACC regular-season games, a 70.6 winning percentage, and had at least a .500 league record in each of his final 21 seasons.

The Tigers have captured 14 ACC titles outright, more than any other team, and Wilhelm was the mentor for 11 of them. Clemson has either won or tied for the regular-season title 21 times, and Wilhelm was the head coach on 18 of those occasions. He had 10 consecutive years (1973-82) when the Tigers either won the ACC regular-season or tournament title.

Wilhelm, a native of China Grove, NC, played at N.C. State for two years before signing with the Saint Louis Cardinals in June of 1950. After one year of professional baseball, he entered military service, where he spent two years. He played service ball and spent two more years in the professional ranks before returning to college. He entered Catawba (Salisbury, NC) and received his degree in January of 1957.

Upon graduation, Wilhelm began work on his master's degree at North Carolina. At the same time, he served as an assistant coach for the Tar Heels under Head Coach Walter Rabb and played catcher for Greensboro in the Carolina League.

In 1957 when North Carolina played at Clemson, Tiger Athletic Director Frank Howard asked Rabb to recommend a new coach so that the Tigers' head coach (Bob Smith) could become a full-time football coach. Howard took Rabb's advice and hired Wilhelm.

In August of 1958, Wilhelm received his graduate degree from North Carolina while he served as Clemson's head coach. He coached the Tigers to the College World Series each of his first two seasons.

Wilhelm passed away at the age of 81 on December 24, 2010 in Seneca, SC.

Note: Clemson home games in bold.

The 2010 Tigers captured the ACC Atlantic Division title by sweeping Florida State in three games in May.

Last Time It Happened

3 Home Runs

Clemson - It had been two years since a Tiger had hit three home runs in one game, but John Hinson pulled the trick against South Carolina-Upstate at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on April 21, 2010 in a game the Tigers won 22-4. He went 5-for-6 with three home runs and seven RBIs. He hit a solo homer in the second inning, a three-run homer in the third inning, and another three-run homer in the sixth inning.

Opponent - Georgia Tech first-baseman Luke Murton hit three home runs and drove in seven runs against the Tigers in the ACC Tournament at Jacksonville, FL in the second game of a doubleheader on May 27, 2006. Batting in the sixth spot in the lineup, he led off the seventh inning with a solo homer. In the eighth inning, he hit a two-run homer, then he hit a grand slam in the ninth inning. Therefore, Murton hit three homers in three straight innings. Clemson was victorious, however, by a score of 16-11.

4 Hits By 3 Players

Clemson - This last occurred at Maryland on April 20, 2003, exactly 18 years to the day that it happened last by a Tiger trio. Herman Demmink hit four singles, Kyle Frank was a 5-for-5 with four runs and four RBIs, and David Slevin was 4-for-6 with five RBIs in Clemson's 20-5 win. Frank also became just the third Tiger in history to hit two home runs in the same inning when he did so in the second inning.

Opponent - Georgia Tech accomplished this feat for the first time by a Tiger opponent in 13 years on April 18, 2010 in Atlanta. Three Yellow Jackets had at least four hits in the 11-3 win over Clemson. Jeff Rowland had four hits, three RBIs, and three runs, Tony Plagman had four hits, two RBIs, and two runs, and Jacob Esch had four hits, one RBI, and two runs.

5 Hits

Clemson - Brad Miller went 5-for-5 with a double, homer, three RBIs, and four runs in Clemson's 9-8 win over Florida State at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on May 20, 2010.

Opponent - Cal State Fullerton's David Cooper went 5-for-5 with a homer and four RBIs against the Tigers in the College World Series at Omaha, NE on June 20, 2006. His run-scoring single with two outs in the eighth inning was the difference in the Titans' 7-6 win.

5 Hits By 2 Players

Clemson - Brooks Shumake hit a homer and four singles and Jimmy Key added two doubles and three singles against Georgia Southern at Statesboro, GA on May 13, 1982 in a game Clemson won 25-5.

Opponent - South Carolina leftfielder Derick Urquhart had five hits, including three doubles, and catcher Ryan Bordenick had six hits, including two doubles and a home run, as the Gamecocks defeated Clemson 38-16 in Columbia on April 23, 1997. It was the first time since 1980 that two opposing players accomplished this feat.

Back-to-Back Home Runs

Clemson - John Hinson and Richie Shaffer hit back-to-back homers against Alabama at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on June 13, 2010. In the third inning, Hinson hit a one-out, solo homer. Shaffer followed with a solo homer in Clemson's 19-5 win.

Opponent - Cole Leonida and Matt Skole of Georgia Tech hit back-to-back solo homers to lead off the second inning in the Yellow Jackets' 8-6 win at Russ Chandler Stadium in Atlanta on April 16, 2010.

Cycle

Clemson - Gary Burnham performed the elusive feat at Texas-Arlington on February 18, 1995. Burnham had a double in the first inning, a triple in the third, walked in the fifth, struck out in the sixth, hit a three-run homer in the seventh, and completed the cycle with a single in the ninth inning. He added four RBIs and scored four runs.

Opponent - Chris Pittaro of North Carolina in Chapel Hill on March 21, 1981 had a double in the first, a single in the second, a home run in the third, and a triple in the sixth, along with two RBIs. North Carolina defeated the Tigers by a score of 10-7.

Grand Slam

Clemson - Brad Miller hit a grand slam with two outs in the sixth inning to help Clemson defeat Alabama 19-5 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on June 13, 2010.

Opponent - Tyler Kirkpatrick of Western Carolina hit a grand slam at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on April 14, 2010. The grand slam came with no outs in the seventh inning in a game Western Carolina won 7-5.

No-Hitter

Clemson - Five Tigers combined to pitch Clemson's first no-hitter in 25 years in the Tigers' 14-0 win over South Carolina-Upstate at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on March 18, 2009. Justin Sarratt, Scott Weismann, Kyle Deese, Tomas Cruz, and Matt Vaughn combined to allow just two baserunners and faced one batter over the minimum.

Opponent - Auburn's Dana Becton and Ken Deriso combined to no-hit Clemson for the first time in almost 16 years when they held the Tigers hitless on March 11, 1979 at Auburn, AL. Becton went the first six innings and struck out seven batters, while Deriso hurled the last three innings and struck out four batters. Clemson lost the game by a score of 10-1, as the Tigers scored a run on two errors and a passed ball.

Shutout

Clemson - Graham Stoneburner pitched a shutout when he blanked N.C. State at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on March 23, 2008. He allowed two hits and one walk with seven strikeouts in the Tigers' 2-0 win. He allowed just one runner past first base and none past second base.

Opponent - Clayton Shunick of N.C. State went the distance against Clemson in the ACC Tournament at The Baseball Grounds of Jacksonville (FL) on May 22, 2008. He allowed just two hits and no walks with eight strikeouts in a game N.C. State won 10-0 in seven innings.

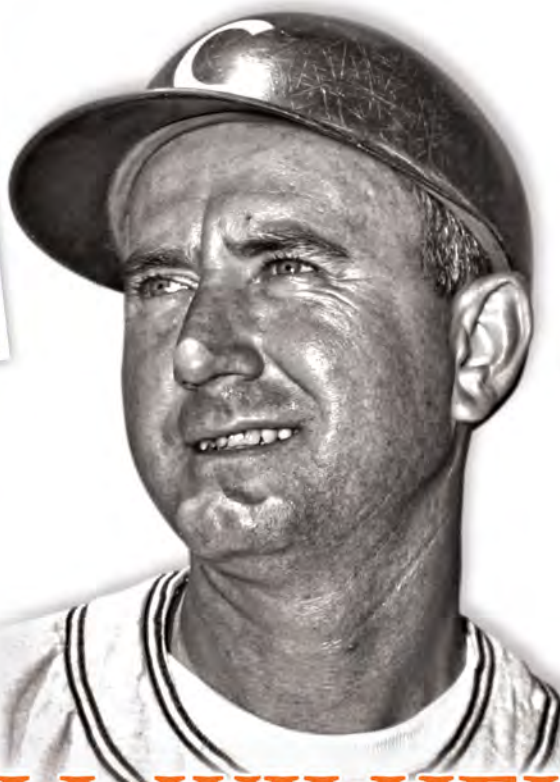

Triple Play

Clemson - Clemson completed its first triple play in 24 years against George Mason on February 26, 1995 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Mark Watson gave up a leadoff walk to Joey Goodwin in the fourth inning, which was followed by a single by Ron Pennell. Brendan Pickett hit a line shot to first-baseman David Miller, who stepped on first to double off Pennell and then threw to Seth Brizek at second, and the throw beat Goodwin for the third out. The Tigers won 9-3.

Opponent - Dan Griffin, Matt Robinson, and Rick Figueredo of Florida State combined for a triple play on March 2, 1983 in Tallahassee. After Bob Paulling singled and Craig Roberson walked to open the second inning, Jamie Swanner grounded to Griffin, who forced Paulling at third. Griffin threw to Robinson, forcing Roberson at second, and Robinson relayed to Figueredo at first for the putout on Swanner. The teams battled to a 3-3 tie in 10 innings.
